Doctors To Report On Nixon's Health

WASHINGTON (AP) — H. R. Haldeman, Richard M. Nixon's former staff chief, opened his defense today at the Watergate cover-up trial by giving a verbal guided tour of the White house.

Haldeman became the second of the five defendants to take the witness stand with the trial still waiting for a report from court-appointed doctors on whether former President Nixon is well enough to testify.

A spokesman for Dr. Charles Hufnagel, chairman of the three-man panel which examined Nixon and his medical records in California on Monday, said the report would be delivered to U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica before noon.

Haldeman began testifying after former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell completed his defense case with 20 minutes of cross examination by an attorney for one of the other defendants.

Haldeman described his role on the Nixon White House staff as having "the basic responsibility for the planning and implementation of the President's daily activities... my time was scheduled solely on the basis of the demands of the President's time."

He described himself as "the one person who was totally available to the President day or night" with the responsibility to "get done whatever he wanted done or find out whatever he wanted to find out."

Then he described where various White House aides worked in relation to the President's Oval Office.

Located closest to the President's office was Alexander P. Butterfield, said Haldeman. Next was the office of Rose Mary Woods, Nixon's personal secretary, and next to her office was Haldeman's.

Haldeman, Mitchell, former White House aide John D. Ehrlichman, former assistant Atty. Gen. Robert C. Mardian and Kenneth W. Parkinson, one time lawyer for the Nixon re-election committee, are charged with conspiring to obstruct the investigation of the Watergate break-in.

Parkinson's lawyer drew from Mitchell's testimony that the former attorney general had never met Parkinson before July 13, 1972, when Parkinson was brought in to defend the re-election committee against a civil suit by the Democratic National Committee. Mitchell said he told Parkinson the re-election committee had no involvement in the Watergate break-in.

Bulletin

WASHINGTON (AP) — The court-appointed panel of doctors that examined former President Nixon earlier this week told U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica today that Nixon is not presently able to travel to Washington to testify in the Watergate cover-up trial.

UMW Pact Foes Gaining Strength In Coalfields

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) — Opponents of the tentative contract between the United Mine Workers Union and coal producers are picking up strength in the nation's coalfields.

At a Thanksgiving Day meeting in Bellaire, Ohio, Local 2262 President William Yost joined the growing list of low-echelon officials voicing opposition to the agreement reached last Sunday.

"The contract doesn't add up to snuff," Yost charged. "It's really a sad day when coal miners get sold down the road." Specifically, he said the pay scale is too low and there is not enough vacation time. He also criticized UMW President Arnold Miller for failing to win increased medical and dental benefits.

A protest rally is scheduled for today at the union's District 6 headquarters in Bellaire. And another is to be held when local officers gather Saturday at Wheeling College in Wheeling, W.Va., to hear an explanation of the accord.

The Wheeling meeting is just one of several set up to explain what Miller calls "the fattest labor settlement in this decade." The local officials are then expected to sell the pact to their members.

The three-year contract was approved by the union's 38-member bargaining council Tuesday night. But critics note that an earlier rejection the same day indicates the council was pressured into the action.

"They (the bargaining council) know what the rank and file are thinking," said one local official, adding that most miners feel the 10 per cent pay boost the first year is not enough.

Meanwhile, more militant miners in southern West Virginia are organizing car caravans to spread their campaign against the settlement because it contains no provisions allowing them to strike over local grievances.

Opposition is also developing because of the union's efforts to speed up ratification. Officials have said that if the voting can begin on Monday, the union's 120,000 members could be back on their jobs by the end of next week.

Miners are complaining that the Monday vote gives them only one or two days to study the complicated 126-page agreement. The effect, they charge, is to nullify the assurances of democracy Miller vowed when he was seeking the union's presidency.

So far, few miners are feeling any immediate pressure to return to their jobs. About 2,500 members set up special accounts in the UMW's credit union last January in anticipation of the strike. Officers of the credit union say the accounts average about $300 and that there have been very few withdrawals so far. However, they say most didn't intend to draw on the accounts until December.

Marriage Racket Reported Growing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal authorities are worried about a booming racket in marriages purchased by poor aliens from those who prey upon their dreams of life in the United States.

Fraudulent marriage rackets are popping up with increasing frequency in the big cities harboring thousands of aliens who come to this country illegally and live in daily fear of deportation.

Officials of the Immigration and Naturalization Service say they have stepped up their investigations of the practice.

The scheme, typically involves a racketeer scenting easy prey in the alien desperate to remain in the United States but understanding little of its language and less about its laws.

These aliens usually were lured here by the promise of jobs and high wages to send home to their impoverished families. Others may have come to study at universities, then lingered beyond the time allowed by their student visas.

Kissinger Ends Talks With Chinese

PEKING (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger, on his way home from Peking without seeing Chairman Mao, made no major breakthrough during this trip to the Chinese capital.

But he said Thursday night in a parting toast the Americans and their hosts had "deepened our common understanding.... We committed ourselves to continuing the process of normalization."

The secretary of state, his wife Nancy, and his two children by a previous marriage, Elizabeth, 15, and David, 13, flew from Peking to Soochow, an ancient garden city, early today. They were sightseeing in Soochow today and planned to fly to Tokyo tonight.

Kissinger met twice on Thursday with China's vice premier, Teng Hsiao-ping, but no details on the talks were disclosed. A communique on Kissinger's five-day visit was expected today or Saturday.

In his banquet toast to Kissinger, Foreign Minister Chiao Kuan-hua said their exchanges were held "in a candid spirit." Kissinger replied that "the process of improving relations with the People's Republic is a fixed principle of American foreign policy."

The Taiwan issue remains a major unsettled point between Washington and Peking. U.S. officials said both sides were simply waiting for developments on Taiwan, and neither side is pushing for a fast resolution.

Weather

Mostly sunny and cold today, high near 30. Cloudy with a chance of light snow tonight and Saturday. Low tonight, mid 20s. High Saturday, mid 30s. Probability of precipitation, 20 per cent today, 50 per cent tonight and 40 per cent tomorrow. Temperatures Thursday were: high, 46; low, 39.

Whatever their motives, they form the pool of potential victims or sometimes knowing conspirators in the marriage scheme.

The racketeer and the alien need one other party to complete the fraud: a U.S. citizen or legal resident alien willing to marry for money or at least go through the motions of a wedding ceremony.

Wedded to an American citizen or permanent legal immigrant, an alien almost automatically gains official permission to remain in the United States no matter how he got here.

William Wood, a criminal investigator for the Immigration Service, said some fraudulent marriages appear to be real because the spouses live together for a time. But investigators become suspicious when the alien spouse wins legal resident status, then quickly files for divorce.

The organized marriage racket, however, often relies on a few American citizens who carry out multiple "marriages" with the aid of false identification papers, Wood said in an interview.

Marriage brokers charge an alien anywhere from $250 to $1,500 to arrange the wedding, he added.

"Fraudulent marriage is one of the popular, growing and expensive schemes to flout the immigration laws," INS Commissioner Leonard F. Chapman said in a recent speech.

"Organized marriage rings are being uncovered monthly," he continued. "We recently discovered in Miami a woman and her two daughters who had petitioned for entry into this country for 13 alien 'husbands,' all from Haiti.

"The mother has eight marriages that we know of, one daughter has three and the other has two — all without benefit of divorce."

He said the Americans who agree to marry aliens often are victims themselves.

"Many are persons of low income, especially women who perhaps have children to support," he related. Aliens searching for Americans to marry are more often men, he said.

"Not in every case does the U.S. citizen know that the marriage may be fraudulent," Wood continued. "The alien will on the surface show affection and the woman may think it's true love."

Ford Sets China Visit

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford plans to visit mainland China next year in a move to accelerate U.S. relations with the mainland and to balance Soviet leader Leonid Brezhnev's trip to Washington next June.

An announcement of the presidential visit, giving no specific date or reason, was given in a joint communique issued today in Washington and Peking as Secretary of State Henry Kissinger's completed a five-day trip to China.

U.S. officials traveling with Kissinger said they expected the trip would take place late in 1975. It was also understood that the Chinese took the initiative in arranging the visit.

Ford will be following the footsteps of former President Richard Nixon, whose 1972 visit marked the end of a quarter century of estrangement and produced the Shanghai communique setting guidelines for developing normal relations between the two nations.

The communique today said that "U.S. and Chinese sides held frank, wide-ranging and mutually frank talks" during Kissinger's visit. It added: "They reaffirmed their unchanged commitments to the principles of the Shanghai communique."

Otherwise, Kissinger's visit produced no evident major advance in improving relations, although an agreement appeared to be near on compensation to Americans whose property was seized after the Chinese revolution.

"I look forward to visiting the People's Republic of China sometime next year and to continuing the process of normalizing our relations," Ford said in a written statement.

Nitze Disappointed In Atom Arms Pact

WASHINGTON (AP) — Paul H. Nitze, a former top U.S. arms limitations negotiator, says the new U.S.-Soviet agreement fails to go far enough in curbing the nuclear weapons race.

"The real problem we face is the imminent deployment of a new family of Soviet missiles," Nitze said in an interview. "I don't see that the new pact reduces that problem appreciably."

He also said he had hoped for a lower ceiling on missiles that can carry multiple independently targetable warheads (MIRVs) than the 1,200 to 1,300 reportedly allowed on each side under the new agreement.

Nitze, who played a key role in negotiations leading to the first SALT agreement in 1972, resigned abruptly last June, saying the Watergate scandal made it impossible for the Nixon administration to achieve a successful long-term pact that would enhance U.S. security.

He said at the time that, until the effectiveness of the presidency was restored, "I see no real prospect for reversing certain unfortunate trends in the evolving situation" surrounding the then-deadlocked talks on SALT II.

Asked for his opinion of the new agreement worked out during Ford's meeting with Soviet Communist chief Leonid I. Brezhnev in Vladivostok, Nitze said, "I am disappointed."

Nitze made it clear he is concerned because the agreement leaves the Russians free to deploy big new missiles with several times the "throw weight," or lifting power, of U.S. missiles.

With this major "throw weight" superiority, critics say, the Russians may be able to mount enough powerful and accurate MIRV warheads by the early 1980s to threaten U.S. land-based missiles in their launch silos, even with the agreed ceiling on the number of missiles that can launch them.

As a result of the new agreement's failure to curb Russia's big new multiple warhead missiles, Nitze said, "There is much we will need to do" to assure the survivability of the U.S. land-based missile force.

"We certainly should consider a land-mobile missile," Nitze said.

A mobile missile system, which would be costly, would be extremely difficult for an enemy to destroy in a surprise attack, unlike missiles which sit in fixed silos.

Israeli Soldiers Slay 5

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Israel said its soldiers killed five Arab guerrilla infiltrators early today in a firefight on the border with Lebanon.

The reported clash occurred a few hours before the United Nations Security Council was to meet in New York on the Middle East. The meeting is specifically to vote on whether to extend for six months the mandate placing a peacekeeping observer force on the Golan Heights between Israeli and Syrian troops. The initial six-month mandate expires Saturday night.

A military spokesman in Tel Aviv said an Israeli patrol engaged the guerrillas as they tried to slip through a security fence near Mt. Dov, overlooking southeastern Lebanon. No Israeli casualties were reported.

The spokesman said rifles, bazookas and sabotage equipment were found with the slain invaders.

There was no immediate comment from Lebanese defense officials or Palestinian guerrilla spokesmen in Lebanon.

On the eve of the Security Council session, Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim returned to New York from a five-day swing through Israel,

Arctic Cold Hits Wide Area Of U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A pre-winter blast of arctic cold scattered snow through a wide stretch of the midcontinent today and dropped temperatures below freezing deep into the South.

Snowfall generally was light but widespread, dusting the lower Rockies, much of the Plains region, the lower Great Lakes and the eastern Ohio Valley.

Two inches or more of snow whitened northeastern New Mexico and southeastern Colorado. An inch coated Rapid City, S.D., and Syracuse and Binghamton, N.Y.

Travel advisories remained in effect in parts of New Mexico, Colorado, Missouri and Pennsylvania due to snow.

Temperatures slipped below zero in portions of Wyoming overnight. Near-zero readings spilled out of the northern Rockies into the Dakotas and Nebraska.

Readings in the low 30s ranged across much of the South from Texas through Georgia.

Fair skies were scarce, confined mostly to sections of the Southwest, the central Rockies, the Southeast and the Middle Atlantic region.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 1 at Laramie, Wyo., to 70 at Key West and Miami, Fla.

Jordan and Egypt. He described the region's political climate as improved but added that great barriers remain before peace talks can be reopened.

Syria reportedly had objections to keeping the U.N. troops in place, but these were smoothed over at the last minute. Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger reported Syria's acquiescence during his visit to Peking, and Waldheim confirmed it after meeting with Syrian leaders.

Waldheim estimated the cost of the buffer force for the next six months at $7.6 million. It now has 1,224 soldiers from Austria, Peru, Canada and Poland plus a headquarters staff and military observers.

Israelis today marked the 27th anniversary of the U.N. vote on Nov. 29, 1947, that divided biblical Palestine into a state for the Jews and one for the Palestinians. A split among small states swung the vote in Israel's favor, and the proposal passed 33-13 with 10 abstentions. In those early days of the United Nations, the Third World countries now dominating the General Assembly were not members.

The Arabs rejected the 1947 decision and invaded areas already settled by 650,000 Jews. It was the first of four Arab-Israeli wars and ended with the Jews holding large chunks of land originally earmarked for Palestine.

22 SHOPPING DAYS
TILL CHRISTMAS

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — Prices drifted downward amid a general holiday weekend lull in the stock market today.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was down 3.13 at 616.16, and losers outnumbered gainers by about 5 to 3 in slow trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

Analysts noted that many investors were taking a four-day Thanksgiving holiday.

Safeway Stores, the Big Board volume leader, lost 3/4 to 36. The company said it was studying a switch to last-in-first-out accounting for its inventories, a step which the company estimated would reduce reported 1974 earnings by $1.25 a share.

At the American Stock Exchange, the market-value index eased .03 to 63.63.

The NYSE's composite common-stock index faded .13 to 36.98.

Financial Corp. of Santa Barbara, the Amex volume leader, lost 1 1/4 to 5 1/2 in trading that included a 78,500-share block at 5 1/4.

Jesuits Ponder Future Of Order

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Jesuits, facing declining numbers and criticism from Pope Paul VI over their activist image, are gathering for deliberations that could decide the religious order's future.

On Sunday, 237 Jesuits from 80 countries begin a two-month session of the General Congregation, governing body of the Society of Jesus. The largest delegation, 33 members, comes from the United States.

"Our principal motive is to determine what type of service we should offer to the church in the face of a rapidly changing world," said the Rev. Pedro Arrupe, the Spanish-born superior-general, who heads the Roman Catholic order.

From his apostolic palace a stone's throw from the austere Jesuit headquarters on Borgo Santo Spirito, the Pope will keep a close watch on the deliberations. He has been displeased with some of the more vocal elements of the order. At one point the pontiff told Jesuit leaders the tendencies within their order, "if fostered and given support, could lead to serious and possibly irreparable changes in the essential structure itself of your society."

The order was founded by St.

Ignatius Loyola 434 years ago as an elite service to popes. Since then, the Jesuits have survived and thrived on controversy. In recent times, many Jesuits have been outspoken in demanding that the order do more to further social justice in the world.

In the last nine years the number of Jesuits has declined from 30,000 to 26,000, but among its clergy there remains an individualistic group of scholars, missionaries and even politicians.

They include such diverse personalities as the Rev. Daniel Berrigan, who served 18 months in jail for destroying draft board records in protest to the Vietnam war, and the Rev. John McLaughlin, an adviser to former President Richard M. Nixon.

Others are the Rev. Robert Drinan, a liberal Democratic congressman from Massachusetts, and the Rev. Jose Maria Diez-Alegria of Spain. He was suspended from the order for two years after refusing to submit to Jesuit censorship his autobiography dealing in part with priests' sexual frustrations.

Certain to dominate discussions here will be the role Jesuits should play in the pursuit of social justice.

Ford Sets Grid Attendance After Thanksgiving Reunion

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford travels to Philadelphia Saturday to watch the annual football game between Army and Navy, two teams he could sympathize with even if he weren't commander-in-chief.

Both teams have records of three wins and seven defeats. But even that is better than Michigan's record of only one victory during Ford's senior year there.

In addition, the President will be fresh from a nostalgic reunion on Thanksgiving Day with his former high school football teammates.

One member of the 1930 South High School team in Grand Rapids, Mich., Silas McGee of San Francisco, called the White House gathering "the high point of my life."

McGee, who played end and half-back, called the President "Junie," as the team members posed with a football, laughing and joking in front of the team banner. A seven-man Marine band combo played the team's fight song.

"Can you still catch one," Ford, the center on the team and later at the University of Michigan, called to McGee.

Retired longshoreman McGee clowned with the ball and jokingly told reporters, "Junie's following me. That's the way he always gave me interference — he always followed me."

Lady Army Private Takes Air Assault Course

FORT CAMPBELL, Ky. (AP) — Federal law prohibits women from drawing combat assignments in America's armed forces. But if the law is changed, Penny Hartley will be ready.

This week Miss Hartley, an Army private, became the first woman to complete the 101st Airborne Division's rugged air assault course.

"It takes an unusual woman to desire to do this and then actually accomplish it," said Maj. James Daily, commandant of the assault school. "She made it on her own, without any special treatment except to be allowed to use the WAC latrine."

Miss Hartley had to hike five miles on a forced march in two hours; run two miles in 16 1/2 minutes; pass a written examination; do 37 situps and 33 pushups in one minute; climb a troop ladder into an airborne helicopter, and rappell off a 40-foot tower.

"I'm glad I did it," said the petite brunette from Jackson County, W.Va. "It was something to do, and I would do it again."

"Once or twice I almost decided to give it up," she confessed, "But always the next morning, I felt better and wanted to go on."

"The course is really tough, but I had encouragement from everyone in the class, and that helped, believe me," she said. "Not a single person harassed me. They all kept giving me confidence and helping me in little ways that count."

Her regular Army assignment is driving a truck for a supply and service battalion. She wants to be an illustrator in the Army.

Lakewood Widow Wins $300,000

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A 75-year-old widow from suburban Lakewood carried off the $300,000 top prize in the Ohio lottery Buckeye 300 drawing today.

Mrs. Harriet D. Bryan said she plans to put some of the money in the bank, because "I may need it one of these days."

I don't want to go to the home," Rudy A. Obst, 44, of Springfield Township near Toledo, and Thomas H. McDonald, 73, of Canton, each won $15,000 prizes.

There were only three contestants for this week's Buckeye 300.

HEADS TEAM—Dr. Charles A. Hufnagel, chief of surgery at Georgetown University Hospital in Washington, D.C., appears at a press conference where he said he wants more help from the court before attempting an examination of former President Richard M. Nixon. Hufnagel heads a three-man medical team appointed by U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica to determine whether Nixon can testify in the Watergate cover-up trial.

DICK & HELEN BROWN

HAIRDRESSER EARNS DIPLOMA—Ms. Louise McGeehan is shown receiving her diploma from John Miars, styles director of the Contour Institute of Advanced Hair Design (a graduate school of Ohio State School of Cosmetology) in Columbus, Ohio after completing classes on the latest hairstyling secrets and an in-depth study of the newest fashion looks. The new look is a soft, free, and very feminine effect which requires little upkeep. The secret is a unique haircutting technique that combines the best advantages of both razor and scissors to produce a beautiful new design for long or short hair. These new and advanced styling techniques can be found at her salon at 125 W. High Street, Circleville, Ohio.

Detention Center Board Appoints New Trustee

Richard River, Chillicothe, is the newest member of the board of trustees of the South Central Regional Juvenile Detention Center. He will represent Ross County on the board for a term of four years. Ross County has two trustees because of its being the county where the center is to be built.

Other board members are Robert J. Smith, Highland County; Earl Blaum, Pike County; George Armstrong, Ross County; Del Reese, Vinton County; William Fischer, Pickaway County; Herb McCormick, Jackson County.

A joint meeting with the executive committee, judges and the trustees was held Nov. 14 in Chillicothe. The meeting was called to order by chairman Grant McDonald, county commissioner from Ross County. The South Central Regional Juvenile Detention Center consists of six counties each represented by one of their county commissioners.

Richard Dittmar, architect, and John Kayhill from the Ohio Youth Commission were also in attendance at the meeting.

Dittmar gave a report on the progress of the center and stated that the job would be completed in early spring, 1975.

Kayhill spoke on the requirements of the center and gave the committee advice on the state requirements.

The group also heard a report from

Bank Loans To Farmers Increase By 15 Per Cent

Loans by Ohio banks to state farmers increased by 15 per cent during 1973, according to Stephen Lemke, chairman of the Ohio Bankers Association's (OBA) Agricultural Committee.

Citing the newly released 33rd annual Farm Credit Survey conducted by the American Bankers Association (ABA) in cooperation with OBA, Lemke said Ohio banks made $564 million in farm loans in 1973, including $265 million in production loans and $299 million in farm mortgage loans.

By comparison, he said life insurance companies in the state held $82 million in farm mortgage loans.

By comparison, he said life insurance companies in the state held $82 million in farm loans, Federal Land Banks $287 million, Production Credit Associations $355 million and the Farmers Home Administration $36 million in real estate loans and $13 million in non-real estate loans.

Lemke, who is also assistant vice president of the Marion County Bank, Marion, said that Ohio bankers are strongly aware of increasing needs by agribusiness for large capital investments. Banks are making a concerted effort through improved lending programs to meet these changing credit demands.

Lemke said nearly 9 out of 10 banks throughout the country have agricultural loans outstanding, making commercial banks the nation's leading agribusiness lenders. Nearly 95 per cent of the banks in Ohio extend credit to farm operators, according to the survey.

The OBA Agricultural Committee is composed of bankers from throughout the state who specialize in the agribusiness field. Besides Chairman Lemke, they are: Vice Chairman Lee Kuhlman, vice president and cashier, Peoples Savings Bank, New Knoxville; Richard L. Bump, vice president, Central National Bank of Cleveland; H. R. Brown, executive vice president and cashier, First National Bank in Camden; Elden Houts, president, The Citizens Commercial Bank, Celina; William H. Mitchell, vice president, Bank of Wood County Company, Bowling Green; Earl Palm, president, Second National Bank, Circleville; R. E. Whiteside, president, The Huntington Bank of Washington Court House; and Paul E. Wilson, president, The Farmers Bank, West Union.

OBA is the statewide trade association that represents all of Ohio's 499 commercial banks and their 2049 banking offices.

Birth Downturn

Population experts are not yet predicting an actual decline in the number of people residing in the United States. But the drop in the birth rate points in that direction.

One of the latest studies, by The Conference Board, indicates the fertility rate now is below the level required to replace the population.

Current estimates are that 3.1 million babies will be born this year, the lowest number since 1945. In itself that is a significant change, but it is only part of the story.

Over the last 15 years the number of women in the major child-bearing years—18 to 29—has increased by more than 50 per cent. But the number of births in that period has dropped more than 20 per cent.

Population shifts seldom occur that rapidly. When they do they usually signal other changes in society. And it has been so in the United States. Contraceptives have become widely available, the percentage of women working has increased dramatically, women are marrying later in life than formerly, and the average couple simply does not want as many children as did couples in the past.

As the dramatic change which has occurred in the birth rate in recent years was unpredicted, so it is difficult to anticipate how long the current trend will continue. If it continues for another decade the prospects will be real that one of the problems the next generation will be forced to contend with will be the economic significance of a zero rate of population growth, or less.

Anti-Secrecy Inroads

Slowly but steadily the public's right to know about its business is becoming a recognized tenet of government. It has been a long, hard haul, and the end is not in sight. But the progress which has been made in removing the cloak of secrecy in recent years bodes well for the future.

Consumers now have the right to review files compiled on them which provide input affecting their credit ratings—and the right to challenge any derogatory comments or erroneous information. That step was a long time coming, considering the importance of credit in modern society and the tight-fisted control which once was maintained over such files.

Beginning this month a new federal law will have much the same sweeping effect as the credit information reform.

For the first time in many instances parents will have the right to see almost all public school records compiled on their children. Students over the age of 18 will have the same right to see their own files.

Some members of the higher education profession continue to challenge parts of this right, but it is one which is long overdue.

Flying Secure

Attempted skyjackings in the United States have become almost extinct. In the absence of any serious attempt it is easy to forget they once occurred in almost epidemic numbers.

Credited with success against would-be terrorists are the passenger screening and baggage search procedures installed in all U.S. airports. Their effectiveness is measured in two ways: by the absence of hijackings and in the number of weapons confiscated.

In the first nine months of 1974, security officers seized 1,600 guns, 12,600 explosive devices and more than 21,000 knives—all from passengers trying to board.

Not all these weapons, along with 30,000 others seized as potentially lethal, were intended to be used in crimes. But it is difficult to imagine what so many persons were doing with explosive devices.

But the chances are excellent that without the security precautions a number of those weapons would have been used in hijacking attempts. The aggravation of the search at the boarding gate, which transportation officials say may be "there forever," is the price of admission to a more secure passage.

TVA Bid For Coal Firm Rapped

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A proposal by the Tennessee Valley Authority (TVA) to purchase the giant Peabody Coal Co. is generating heated reaction in Kentucky, Tennessee and Washington, D.C.

"This proposal is without precedent," says Kentucky Sen. Walter (Dee) Huddleston, in discussing the possibility of TVA, the nation's largest generator of electric power, purchasing the nation's largest private coal company.

"It's opening a lot of doors," says Huddleston. "I want it checked out ... all the ramifications of it, although I am not suggesting any wrongdoing."

Secretary of the Interior Rogers Morton adds, "The prospect of TVA winding up with Peabody scares the heck out of me."

And Tennessee Sen. Howard Baker says the proposal "must not be treated routinely," adding that he will ask for a congressional inquiry.

Also, Congressman-elect Carroll Hubbard, who will represent Kentucky's 1st Congressional District — the largest TVA market in the state — says he will look into the proposal as soon as he is "in a position to do so."

Not all reaction to the proposal has been skeptical.

Rep. Tim Lee Carter, Republican from the 5th District in Kentucky, said he supports the proposal. TVA supplies some of Carter's district with power and owns 40,200 acres of coal lands in the district.

Former U. S. Sen. Albert Gore of Tennessee, now chairman of the board of Island Creek Coal Co., Lexington, said that his perspective regarding the proposal is complex.

He noted that in 20 years as a congressman and senator from Tennessee he championed TVA and that he has never found fault ideologically with the TVA concept.

But now he heads a company that is TVA's biggest coal supplier (not counting TVA-owned coal mined by Peabody). And TVA is Island Creek's largest customer.

Gore said his first responsibility is to his stockholders.

"But I could not say that Island Creek opposes or will oppose this proposal. We will likely take no position at all," he said.

This year Peabody will mine more than 70 million tons of coal in the 12 states in which it operates. It also has mining interests in Australia.

In Kentucky in 1973, Peabody mined 24,753,458 tons of coal and had a payroll of $46,099,525. It paid Kentucky taxes of $3,617,301. It has 11 mines in Western Kentucky and none in Eastern Kentucky.

In Indiana Peabody's tonnage last year was 12,316,135 and 1,151 employees were paid $16,409,768. The figures were provided by the company's main office in St. Louis.

In making his first formal statement on the proposed purchase last week, TVA Board Chairman Aubrey (Red) Wagner said that "problems of both supply and price in the present market" were causing TVA to propose the deal, reportedly in the billion-dollar range.

BATTLE CREEK, Mich. (AP)—Lt. Lowell E. Cunningham, a 30-year-old Navy navigation instructor from Hicksville, Ohio, was among five persons killed when their training jet crashed Wednesday at Kellogg Regional Airport here.

Cunningham was married and had two daughters.

Navy investigators still were trying to determine the cause of the crash. The plane was on a flight from Florida.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Friday, Nov. 29, the 333rd day of 1974. There are 32 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1945, the monarchy was abolished in Yugoslavia.

On this date:

In 1825, the first Italian opera presented in the United States, Rossini's "Barber of Seville," was performed in New York.

In 1899, the United States, Switzerland and France recognized the Republic of Brazil.

In 1922, archaeologists announced they had found fabulous treasure in the tomb of King Tutankhamen in Egypt.

In 1929, U.S. Navy Lt. Commander Richard Byrd radioed that he had made the first flight over the South Pole.

Ten years ago: Several hundred thousand Chinese demonstrated in Peking against American involvement in the Congo, calling it aggression.

Five years ago: Communist forces in South Vietnam eased up a four-week offensive in which nearly 400 South Vietnamese and 70 Americans were killed.

One year ago: More than 100 persons perished in a department store fire in Kurnamoto, Japan.

Today's birthdays: Skier Suzanne Chaffe is 28. Artist James Rosenquist is 41.

Thought for today: Rest is for the dead — Thomas Carlyle, Scottish writer, 1795-1881.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

My husband has bouts of severe back pain almost every month. He is sure he has a slipped disk, but won't do anything about it because he is afraid that he'll need surgery. Is there any other way that a slipped disk can be treated?

Mrs. P. R. H., Pa.

Dear Mrs. H.: You have fallen into a trap. Without study, why should you both assume that your husband has a slipped disk? There are an infinite number of other conditions that can be responsible for recurring episodes of pain in the back.

His fear of surgery is obviously unnecessary because no suggestion has been made by any examining physician that would indicate the need for an operation.

The spine is a series of 33 bones or vertebrae that run from the neck (cervical spine) to the tail bone (coccyx).

The vertebrae are separated from each other by disks, which are cartilage cushions that absorb physical shocks.

They protect the bony edges of the vertebrae as the body twists and turns and bends.

Occasionally, the elastic disk may, by injury, become displaced from its normal position. The location or distribution and radiation of pain depends entirely on the exact spot in the spinal column where the disk is herniated, or "slipped."

There are nonsurgical ways of treating some cases of slipped disk. The choice of any form of therapy can be made only when the exact diagnosis is established. It is obvious that false fears are keeping your husband from the important examination he needs. It may come as a surprise if his "slipped disk" turns out to be a relatively insignificant problem.

I have been trying to induce my mother to see a psychiatrist. She knows she's very neurotic, but thinks she's too old for help. She is 54.

Miss R. E., Ind.

Dear Miss E.: Your mother may be using her middle age as an excuse for not seeking help. There is no age in which people cannot benefit from expressing their inner feelings, their concerns, their problems, to a doctor, a psychologist or a psychiatrist.

It is true that many older people are more fixed in their patterns of living and therefore less amenable to treatment. But your mother can certainly be helped if she sincerely wants it.

A blaze at Hanley's Cocktail Bar, 112 E. Main St., one that could have easily been avoided, was quickly brought under control by Circleville Firemen. It was believed to have been caused by a short circuit in the music box speaker.

Circleville battled Chillicothe most of the way, but lost the season opener 72-67 to the Cavaliers. Big gun, rebounding wise, for the Chillicothe team was Gregg Cook, who later went on to a professional football contract with the Cincinnati Bengals.

Jack Martin and Mike Ramey of Circleville High School and Dave Roese of Teays Valley were named to the Central District All-Star football team.

Damage to crops covered by Federal Crop Insurance in Pickaway County was estimated at $42,000 according to an insurance official. Most of the damage was inflicted to corn and soybeans during extremely hot and dry weather during the growing season.

Burley Tobacco Prices Spiral

RIPLEY, Ohio (AP) — The price of burley tobacco continued to soar Tuesday after a record-setting opening session a day earlier.

A hundredweight brought $110.05, or $2.56 more than Monday when the average rocketed more than $22 above the opening price of $86.17 a year ago.

Volume was 492,918 pounds. Sales totaled $542,435.

Ambassador Honored By West Point

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP) — The U.S. Military Academy at West Point has given its highest award, the Thayer Award, to Ambassador Robert D. Murphy, a 39-year veteran of American foreign service.

The award, named for the father of the military academy Sylvanus Thayer, has gone to such notables as Henry Cabot Lodge, Dwight D. Eisenhower, Douglas MacArthur, Francis Cardinal Spellman, Bob Hope, Neil Armstrong and Dean Rusk.

Ambassador Murphy was U.S. political adviser for Germany in 1944 and has served as ambassador to Belgium and Japan and as Under Secretary of State for Political Affairs. He is currently the chairman of the Commission on the Organization of the Government for the conduct of Foreign Policy.

Proud And Loyal

By JIM BISHOP

He is one of a kind. Toots Shor is the only man in the world who opened a restaurant so that he could talk to his kind of people. Peddling food and booze was a hobby. The kid from Philadelphia wanted to meet baseball stars, Supreme Court justices, sports writers, hoodlums with polished fingernails, and actors.

Mr. Shor met them all. Some, such as Bill Corum, Bob Considine, Chief Justice Earl Warren, Mark Hellinger and Joe Noonan became his heroes. There were others. He talked tough and fast to hide a heart about the size of a Volkswagen.

His place was the "in" restaurant for years. Guys like me, and Jackie Gleason, used to run up tabs when we were out of work. Mr. G. used to sign Shor's name to the check and apologize about the tip. "You know how cheap Toots is," he would say.

My daughter, Mrs. Charles Frechette, calls him "Uncle Toots" with more affection than she has for real uncles. When Joe Noonan went to the can for income tax evasion, Shor rented a Carey Cadillac every Saturday and drove up to Lewisburg, Pa., with a big basket of turkey, steaks, fruit, candy and cigarettes. Every Saturday.

The Rockefeller wanted the land under the Shor restaurant and Toots sold. "I told you crumb burns I wanted to live like a millionaire," he yelled. "I didn't want to be one."

He was. He wore the ermine awkwardly. A new restaurant was built a block away. Joe Harrison, the Liverpool smiler, was still standing under the arch, snapping his fingers at table captains to seat people.

One night Joe and three captains got drunk after closing. They hopped a plane to Chicago to find a 24-hour joint. They were stoned four days. Shor was seating customers on each other's laps.

When the penitents returned, they put on dinner jackets and black ties, which go well with flaming retinas. Shor was nothing. The men worked, but they couldn't stand the silence. "For God's sake, Toots," Harrison said. "Say something."

"I'll say something," Mr. Shor growled. "Why didn't you burns take me witcha?"

He had a buddy working in the kitchen who was stealing $300 a week in food kickbacks. I asked why he didn't fire the man. "Not a chance," he said. "I'm nuts about his whole family."

That, I think, is the key to the undoing of Mr. Shor. Money wasn't worth anything as long as a man had some in his pocket. He lost the restaurant. A lot of notables owed him a mint, but they are tip-toe pallbearers.

A few friends, led by Bob Considine, got together and put Toots in business in a smaller restaurant. The grinding, painful irony is that the roughneck who copyrighted loyalty ran short of friends and customers.

Kelly and I went to it, saw the name TOOTS SHOR on the canopy, and we saw a small sign "Closed" on the door. The "in" place was "out." He went on the wagon, put up a cheerful grin, and broke one leg after the other.

It seemed such a short time ago, to me, that the advertising executives of Madison Avenue and the big politicians and writers had fought to prove to friends that they could touch his shoulder and say, "Hi, Toots!" A status symbol.

He takes his beating in silence. We had lunch at "21." He sat with both hands on a cane. The chin, I noticed, was defiantly high. The sumptuous apartment is gone. He hooked a rough hand behind my head and remembered and remembered.

We swapped lies and he laughed. He laughed so hard that 90-proof tears staggered on his cheeks. I asked where he lived. "Baby and I have a couple of rooms at the Drake Hotel," he said, "440 Park Avenue. Write it down. Drop me a note now and then. If you see anybody who knows me, tell 'em to drop a line."

Sure, I said. Of course. I would not ask if he was dead broke because he would deny it. In a way, he reminds me of an old poem which opens: "Abou Ben Adhem—(may his tribe increase!):—Awoke one night from a deep dream of peace—And saw, within the moonlight in his room,—... an angel writing in a book of gold..."

The poem told about how Abou Ben Adhem was a man of no accomplishment, except that he loved his fellow men. That's Toots. Maybe he isn't one of a kind...

District President Speaks To Legion Auxiliary Unit

Plans for Christmas were made during the Monday evening meeting of Unit 134 American Legion Auxiliary in the Post Home. Mrs. Charles Moss presided over the business meeting which was opened with prayer by Roseann Stinson, chaplain. Accompanied on the piano by Betty Woods, the group sang "America."

Roseann Stinson children and youth chairman, reported giving clothing when needed and plans for delivery of a Thanksgiving basket. She is accepting donations for Christmas baskets. Needed are canned goods, toys and pledges of money for perishable items. The deadline is Dec. 21st and all may be taken to Mrs. Stinson's home at 215 E. Union St.

The annual donation to "Gifts For Yanks Who Gave" was made. Every year on Christmas morning, The American Legionnaires visit Veterans Hospital, Chillicothe and distribute gifts from this fund.

Mary Stephens, VA and R chairman, reported on the November visit to Veterans Hospital and thanked Eleanor Moss, Kathleen Hoffman, Lucile Pickel and Magdalene Fee for the cupcakes they made and Betty Sabine for the candy treat she

Head Start Program Topic For Circle

Mrs. Rosemary Starkey showed slides and commented on them at the November meeting of Rebekah Circle, Community United Methodist Church. The slides showed children they had taken care of in the Head Start program, while at work and play. She said many people do not understand the project or its purposes. She answered questions for circle members.

Devotions were conducted by Mrs. Barbara Wilson. She read scripture from Matthew 25:35-36, Mark 9:36-37, John 13:34-35, and a prayer and poem entitled "Little People."

Frances Rose presided over the business session. Dec. 4th was selected as the date for a carry-in dinner. Members are to bring their own table service. Table decorations are to follow the Nativity Scene theme. The gift shop for children to choose Christmas presents for their parents will be held Dec. 16th.

A new member, Miss Janet Martin, was introduced and welcomed by the circle.

Hostesses, Mrs. Jane Shank, Mrs. Gertrude Sanborn and Mrs. Etha Mae Wolford, served refreshments to the 14 members.

provided. She discussed plans for the annual Christmas ward party and accepted monetary contributions from members for fruit and candy. Cookie pledges will be needed and anyone wishing can contact the chairman at her home.

Magdalene Fee reported sending a sympathy card and a basket of flowers. In memory of a recently deceased member, Miss Grace Zimmerman, Mrs. Moss conducted a memorial service assisted by the chaplain and the Unit Charter was draped.

Mrs. Moss introduced a special guest of the evening, Mrs. Delno Olaker, 7th District president. She reported the district is in fifth place in the state in membership and was pleased to hear the unit now had 93 paid dues for the year. Members who have not paid are urged to do so soon. Mrs. Charles Oney, department VA and R chairman, and Mrs. Earl Worf, district secretary were additional guests. They invited the members to the annual Tree Lighting Service in the recreation hall at Veterans Hospital, Dec. 9th at 7 p.m. to share with the veterans an evening they look forward to.

There will be no December meeting and a carry-in dinner for the January meeting at 6:30 p.m. was planned.

The chaplain closed the meeting with prayer and refreshments were served by Mary Stephens.

Lutheran Church Circles To Meet

Events for the coming week have been planned by Circles of Trinity Lutheran Church.

On Tuesday, Sarah Circle meets 10 a.m. in the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Wilson, 495 Lawnwood Court; Elizabeth Circle noon at Wardell's Party Home for luncheon and Christian Home Circle 7 p.m. in the Parish House.

Wednesday meetings are Ruth Circle 2 p.m. in the church parlor and Mary Circle 6:30 p.m. to go caroling and conduct a business session at 7:30 p.m. at the church.

Child Advancement Club Schedules Christmas Dinner

Members of Child Advancement Club made plans for a carry-in Christmas dinner at the home of Mrs. Maynard Marshall, Route 2, during its recent meeting in the home of Mrs. Leroy Newlon, Route 3. Each member is to bring a covered dish and a gift to exchange.

Mrs. Marshall presided over the business meeting. She read a letter from Mrs. Bonnie Remy, Southeastern District president, stating that the Spring Conference will be held March 15th at Logan.

The Party planning committee, Mrs. Bill Ankrom and Mrs. Newlon, announced plans for Husband's Night in February.

Refreshments were served by the hostess at the close of the meeting.

Pot-Luck Supper Held By Young Adult Church Class

New Holland United Methodist Church, Young Adult Class, held a pot-luck supper and meeting recently in the church basement. Elected as officers for 1975 are: Dick Somers, president, Joyce Conrad, vice president; Lynda Conrad, secretary; Sue Miller, treasurer, Nancy Bielanov and Eleanor Bishop, publicity.

Nancy Kirkpatrick read "A Thanksgiving Prayer" to open the meeting. The reading listed some of the blessings people too often take for granted.

Joyce Conrad told of the success of the annual Turkey and Ham Supper, and sale of homemade noodles. Lynda Conrad said reservations for the Lancaster Retreat in February have been confirmed.

Members voted to help a less fortunate family have a merrier Christmas. The class Christmas party is planned for Dec. 3rd at the home of Ann Thompson. Members are asked to bring a lunch.

Thanksgiving Mass At St. Joseph's

Confraternity of Christian Doctrine of St. Joseph's Parish sponsored a Thanksgiving Mass, 11 a.m. Saturday which was attended by students and parents.

An offering of food was made which will be used in Thanksgiving baskets to be donated to needy families.

Following Mass, the Altar and Rosary Society provided lunch in the church basement.

Children Visit Nursing Home

Head Start, of Community United Methodist Church, sponsored by PICCA, visited patients at Circleville Manor on Tuesday.

The children sang Thanksgiving songs and presented a centerpiece in the Thanksgiving theme for the dining room table.

New TOPS Chapter Elects Officers

Officers of the new chapter of TOPS elected at a Tuesday meeting in the home of Paula Parks, 126 W. High St., are: Paula Parks, leader; Wilma Mets, co-leader; Donna Wise, secretary; Betty Lively, treasurer and Carol Easter, weight recorder.

'Thank Offering' Topic For Morning Circle Meet

"Thank Offering" was the program topic for the recent meeting of Morning Circle of United Methodist Women of Calvary Church in the home of Mrs. Andrew Goeller, 1040 Atwater Ave.

Mrs. Earl Millirons opened the meeting with prayer. Events of the Lay Witness Sessions held during the past weekend were discussed briefly. Mrs. Millirons said people must now look to the future.

Mrs. Millirons said that in Biblical times the Hebrews brought their gifts to the Feast of the Tabernacle and the Canaanites brought their first fruits to the Lord. The Evangelical Church Women's Group brought their Thank Offerings as far back as 1889. She read a poem entitled "Life Today."

Members read responsively the prayer of thanks from the Celebration of Ingathering. Brief expressions of gratitude to God from each member were written on cards and placed with the Thank Offering on the altar. Mrs. Millirons said a prayer of dedication and the cards were read to share the thanksgiving each had experienced during the year.

Mrs. Marion DeLong expressed

Tour Of Homes Scheduled By Gardenwood Club

Gardenwood Club made final arrangements for the Christmas Tour of Homes during its recent meeting in the home of Mrs. William Myers, 560 Lawnwood Court. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Howard Davis and Mrs. Charles Lilgendahl Jr.

A workshop was conducted by Mrs. Schubert Measamer on Christmas arrangements featuring candles and Madonnas.

The home tour, sponsored by the club, will be on Dec. 8th. The homes featured will be those of: Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Downing, Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Lackey, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Beckley, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Lundberg, and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Hoffman. The theme to be used for the Christmas decorations will be in a different theme for each home.

It was announced tickets may be purchased at the door of any featured home the day of the tour.

Luncheon Honors Karen Sue Dum

Miss Karen Sue Dum of Columbus, daughter of Mrs. and Mrs. Emerson Dum of Ashville, was honored with a luncheon at Ashville Coffee Shop on Saturday. Hostesses were Mrs. Harry Trego and Mrs. William Hoover.

Miss Dum's marriage to Russell Darby of Columbus, will take place during the Christmas season.

Guests at the luncheon were: Mrs. Ralph Darby, Miss Cathy Parks, Columbus; Mrs. Ralph Hanson, Miss Dorothy Dum, Lithopolis; Mrs. Dean Barr, Mrs. Emerson Dum, Mrs. Gary Hoover, Mrs. Jerry Trego, Ashville, and Mrs. William Trego, Lockbourne.

We're Very Picky Cleaners.

(about little things)

When you take as much pride in your work as we do, you're very picky about details.

Like sewing split seams or loose cuffs. Replacing missing or broken buttons. Removing lint and loose threads. Unsticking sticky zippers. Rolling lapels. And making linings wrinkle-free.

In fact, if we didn't maintain the highest standards in the drycleaning business, we wouldn't be a Sanitone drycleaner in the first place.

We believe it's taking care of the little things that help you look your best.

And the better you look, the better we look.

So look for us in the Yellow Pages.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

She Might Not Settle For Peanuts

DEAR ABBY: As a lawyer, may I comment on the dilemma of the divorcee who didn't know what to say when a man asked for sex outside of marriage?

She should give him a calm, lawyer-like answer; he is asking her to trust him with her body. She is running the risk of an unwanted pregnancy. What is HE risking?

Shouldn't the risk be equal? Why doesn't he give her $1,000 in cash to put into her savings account, and at the end of nine months, if there is no unwanted baby, she can cheerfully return his $1,000.

If she does become pregnant, she can use the money for an abortion, or partial support of the child. In that way, he at least risks something. It is clearly unfair to ask a girl to have sex, and should something go wrong, all the risk be hers.

While the risk can never be made truly equal. The deposit of $1,000 to her account before sex would make it a little more equal.

I wonder how many men who would ask a girl to risk her body are willing to risk some of their money?

J.M.S.: PLANDOME, N.Y.

DEAR J.M.S.: If your proposition is truly "lawyer-like," the legal profession is in trouble. The girl's unwelcome response could be: "If you really want to monkey around, I'm not settling for peanuts!"

DEAR ABBY: I am a 20-year-old fellow who has always liked older women. (I mean women about 45 or 50. I really groove on gray hair, and a woman with middle-age spread.)

I could never get turned on by girls my own age, and I have tried. Do you think there's something wrong with me?

When I was 17, I became very much attracted to one of my high school teachers (she was about 40) and she told me I should have a long talk with the school psychologist, but I never did.

I've heard of men marrying women 20 years older than themselves, and I can't see where there is anything terribly wrong with that.

Please tell me if you think I have a problem, and if I have, how serious is it? Thanks.

Don't tell me I am searching for my mother, because she died when I was a baby and you can't miss what you've never had.

recipes to be given away.

The program starts at 7:30 p.m., Music by the Metta-Larks followed by an Advent Wreath presentation.

Refreshments will be served and door prizes awarded. Emily Berry is chairman with lots of help from all seven of the County Extension Groups and our agent, Beverly Bechtel.

Hope you are planning to spend the evening with us.

King Constantine Seeks Comeback

ATHENS (AP) — King Constantine II has begun a campaign to be restored to the throne in Greece.

In a radio and television address taped here and broadcast in Greece, the 34-year-old monarch appealed to Greeks to vote for his return.

Constantine, has been living in exile in England since he fled Greece in December 1967 after an abortive counter-coup against the military junta that seized power earlier that year.

Greeks vote Dec. 8 for a "crowned democracy" or an "uncrowned democracy."

JUST TOURISTS—U.S. Secretary of State Henry Kissinger, center, and his wife, Nancy, tour the Forbidden City in Peking, China. The city, off limits to common people, is a large complex of pagoda-topped buildings. Kissinger has been shown a new area of the city on each of his seven visits to Peking. He is in Peking to meet with Chinese officials.

Don Ramey, Superintendent

Beyond the timber line rises sheer rock, towering above the clouds themselves. Looking at this great giant of nature we marvel at God's creations . . . and are aware of the comparative insignificance of man.

Yet, man is far from insignificant, save in physical size. For God, after all, made man in His image. And He gave man a brain, and a soul, with a sense of right and wrong. He gave him character and responsibility.

It is man who can progress to heights far greater than this mountain. But he needs help to do it—God's help, through the help of the Church.

You weren't meant to stand alone in this world. Remember that . . . and go to Church this Sunday.

All Past chancellors are also to be present to vote in the grand lodge election.

Members of the December Lunch Committee are: Oren Neal, Lloyd Fisher and Charles Winter.

2 Ohio Girls Semifinalists

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Two Ohio girls, Karen Peterson of Toledo and Julie Anne Kovach of Columbus, are among eight semifinalists in the 14th annual Miss Teenage America pageant.

The winner, who receives a $10,000 college scholarship and other prizes, will be selected during the nationally televised finals Saturday night.

Jacob's Lutheran Church on Sunday following the morning worship service.

St. Jacob's Friendship Circle will meet at the church on Thursday, at 6 p.m., for a carry-in supper and trimming of the Christmas tree.

Last Sunday afternoon callers of Mr. and Mrs. Clendell Reid were Walter Chambers, Amanda, Mr. and Mrs. John Bethel, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Salzganber and Mrs. Nina Solzganber of Columbus.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dawson (Janet Hunt) of Circleville are the parents of a baby girl, born at Lancaster Municipal Hospital on Nov. 22. The Dawson's young son, Reed, spent several days with his grandmother, Mrs. Walter Hunt.

We wish a happy birthday to one of our senior citizens, Mrs. David (Aunt Lou) Singleton, who will be observing her birthday on Saturday.

Mrs. Genevieve Hedges hosted the November meeting of the King's Helpers Class, of the Methodist Church at her home on Saturday evening.

The Reverend Raymond Welch presented devotions and Lucia Spangler conducted the business meeting. The class will make a donation to the Children's Service of Pickaway County and purchase Christmas poinsettias for the sanctuary. The annual custom of giving fruit boxes to persons in the community will be followed, and Orley and Alvena Judy were welcomed as new members.

The December meeting will be at the church on Dec. 28 with a carry-in supper at 7 p.m., followed by a gift exchange.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Hedges to the Rev. and Mrs. Raymond Welch, Richard and Violet Rhymer and Glenn, Ray and Betty McJunkin, George and Bertha O'Hara, Orley and Alvena Judy, the Rev. and Mrs. Carl Wetherell, Lucia Spangler, Ruth Hunt, Reed Dawson, Ella Mae Jenkins, Lisa Pontius, and Mabel Cox.

Sneek-A-Peek

AT BOOKS IN THE CHILDREN'S LIBRARY

With the family together over the holiday weekend try to make a few moments for quiet time. There are some beautiful new books that would be fun to read aloud to the youngest at bedtime.

"Albert's Toothache" shows poor mother trying to determine whether her dear child is faking a toothache in order to stay home from school. Even his favorite meal of green caterpillars and sunflower seeds won't tempt this little turtle out of bed. Children will share Albert's despair as his family refuses to believe his story. Has this ever happened at your house?

Monsters of all sorts fill the pages of "Dinosaur's Housewarming Party." The busiest animal of all is the octopus who needs all eight arms to write all the invitations to the party at once. This outrageously silly story is sure to be popular.

When Gary has been naughty he blames an invisible red-eyed, shaggy haired creature in "Gary and the Very Terrible Monster." The author keeps his readers guessing if such a monster really exists. But no bad dreams will result from listening to this story. The monster is more mischievous than scary and it's all pure fun.

For reading when time is short there is "Oh, A-Hunting We Will Go." The author has chosen the most popular verses of his folk song and added fresh, new drawings. The ridiculous situation of a whale being squeezed into a pail is the kind of nonsense children love.

There is more nonsense in "The Crocodile in the Tree." Unlike beasts who like to scare people, our hero tries to make friends with the farmer's wife by giving her bouquets of flowers.

Curiosity gets dogs and children into trouble. In "Dogs Don't Belong on Beds" Bosco just can't help wanting to see inside the refrigerator and mother's sewing basket. In a very lighthearted fashion perhaps it has a message for children as well.

Author Judi Barrett has had a wonderful idea! She created and sewed a very special "collecting pocket" for a little boy to wear to save his goodies in. Then she wrote a book called "Peter's Pocket" telling about all Peter's adventures. But don't take the book out unless you are prepared to sew portable pockets on your children's clothes!

Do your children like jokes? Then they will howl at the "Morris and Boris" stories. Poor Boris takes his riddles very seriously. And, Morris, a natural comic, responds with answers that are funnier than the right answers. This is non-stop fun for beginning readers.

When some of the second grades in Circleville heard the story of "Nate the Great" they wanted to know if there were any other books about this small boy detective. Now, we have "Nate the Great Goes Undercover," his latest caper. This will be just the thing for the beginning reader who is hard to please.

You will find, I'm sure, that there are many delightful books to be thankful for, in the children's room, during the giving season.

A new service club has been organized to serve Circleville and Pickaway County.

See Cancer Job Bias

NEW YORK (AP) — For Mrs. Joyce E. Arkhurst, the news after her breast cancer surgery last April was good: the lesion was extremely small and her doctor said he considered her to be cured.

But earlier this month, Mrs. Arkhurst, who lives in New York, was informed that she could not be considered eligible for a job at the United Nations "according to our present medical standards."

Mrs. Arkhurst's case was cited by the American Cancer Society in material provided for release today as an example of discrimination by employers against former cancer patients.

"The likelihood of being turned down for a new job because of a past history of cancer is very, very large," said Dr. Robert J. McKenna, a surgeon at the University of Southern California School of Medicine, Los Angeles.

"There is still a stigma attached to cancer," Dr. McKenna said. The surgeon has been named by the cancer society to head a new task force investigating such reported discrimination in general.

Changes Made In Oval Office

WASHINGTON (AP) — While President Ford was traveling last week, renovations were begun on his Oval Office.

Out went a blue rug and the battle flags that stood behind the desk when Richard M. Nixon was chief executive. In came a yellow rug, a portrait of Benjamin Franklin and a grandfather clock.

"The President wanted an office that more reflects his style and taste. He wanted a room that was less formal and had a warmer feeling about it," a spokeswoman said.

Book Firm Sold For $20 Million

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)— The sale of Bantam Books, a major American paperback publishing company, to a European firm for $20 million was announced Thursday.

Bantam was purchased by an Italian conglomerate, Institute of Finance and Industry (IFI), which is headquartered in Luxembourg.

Bantam was sold by American Financial Corp., a Cincinnati-based financial holding company, according to AFC board chairman and president Carl H. Lindner.

The sale called for $60 million in cash and a $10 million note guaranteed by the IFI parent.

AFC had purchased Bantam earlier this year.

Bantam expects to sell 105 million paperbacks in 1974 for a projected $75 million. The book company also owns Transworld Publishers Ltd., a leading British paperback publisher.

IFI International is controlled by the Agnelli family, which has major investments in Fiat. The sale was made to an American subsidiary also known as IFI.

The new Pickaway Plains Sertoma Club held its permanent organizational meeting Nov. 26 at Pickaway Arms. Chairing the meeting was Sertoma International Representative, B. J. LaVorie from Lakewood, Col.

Don Reams was informally installed as the new civic club's president. A formal installation of officers for the new club will be held at their Charter Banquet scheduled for January.

Charter memberships in the new civic club will be available through Dec. 26, according to Reams, who noted that the club is seeking an additional 10 Charter members.

The new club presently meets each Tuesday evening at 7 p.m. at Pickaway Arms. Following the January Charter Banquet the Pickaway Plains Sertoma Club will meet at the restaurant every other Tuesday.

Persons interested in joining the new club may attend the Dec. 3 meeting, contact any member of the new club, or contact any member of the Circleville Noon Sertoma Club.

Answers For Veterans

EDITOR'S NOTE: Each week, the Circleville Herald will publish a series of Questions and Answers of interest to veterans. These questions and answers are some of the many presented to James P. Shea, Pickaway County Veterans Service Officer. Any veteran desiring further information on any question presented in this column, or having any question concerning his Veterans Administration Benefits should contact the Veterans Service Officer in the basement of the Pickaway County Court House.

(Q.) Ten months ago I was issued a Service-Disabled Veterans Insurance (RH) policy by the VA. Does this policy pay dividends?

(A.) Dividends are payable only on National Service Life Insurance and U.S. Government Life Insurance policies with "V" to "K" prefixed policy numbers.

(Q.) Are all veterans, at the age of 65 eligible for Pension benefits from the VA?

(A.) The word "pension" implies a benefit for a non service connected disability. A veteran of any age is eligible for pension, provided he is Totally and Permanently Disabled and has income within certain income limitations. At the age of 65, the VA is ready to concede that the veteran, from age alone, is totally and permanently disabled. Therefore, he need only comply with the income limitation provision. This provision states that if a veteran has one dependent and income below $3800 per year he could be entitled to pension benefits. If the veteran is single, his income must be below $2600.00 per year to be eligible for benefits.

(Q.) I worked for the state forestry division before going on to active army duty. Do the re-employment laws mean that I will be able to reclaim my job there when my two-year tour ends?

(A.) The federal re-employment statutes guarantee reemployment of ex-servicemen applying within the applicable time-periods and meeting certain other requirements but only if they were employed privately or by the federal government. Employees of state governments and their political subdivisions are not protected by federal law, but may be guaranteed re-employment under state law.

(Q.) Could my World War II service in the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps give me eligibility for a GI Bill Loan at this late date?

(A.) Unused, expired GI loan entitlement was restored to World War II and Korea veterans in 1970. WAAC veterans who served at least 90 days, but who were discharged before October 1, 1943, for disability which precluded further service in the WAAC or its successor organization, the Women's Army Corps, are eligible for GI loans on the same basis as other eligible veterans.

(Q.) The adaptive equipment that came with a car I purchased four years ago with a VA grant is wearing out. Will VA replace this equipment?

(A.) Yes. The VA is authorized to repair or replace adaptive equipment for eligible service-disabled veterans. However, only one auto grant may be made.

Church Briefs

"We Still Need Christmas" is the sermon theme selected for Sunday morning at First Baptist Church. Special guest speaker for the evening service is the Rev. Alvis Pollard. On Dec. 6 and 7 there will be a men's prayer retreat at Seneca Lake.

Laurelville News

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Beaver of Columbus have been frequent weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Klotz. The Beaver family is so impressed with the Laurelville area, they hope to eventually settle here.

Mr. and Mrs. Gaylord Perry were guests of Casey and Chuck Zawacki attending a spectacular Ohio State football game. Chuck Zawacki, a National High School All-American in football played varsity football at Ohio State under Woody Hayes and also was an assistant end coach at Ohio State, prior to his business career.

Overheard at the auction held on the Amos Kerns farm: many of the area men bought items because of fond remembrance and respect for Mr. Kerns.

Mrs. H. Douglas Sherman and daughter Jan, of Worthington and Northport, Mich. were recent guests of the Zawacki family. Mrs. Sherman is well known in Ohio Republican Circles.

5 Persons Die Thursday In Accidents

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Ohio recorded only five traffic deaths during the first third of the long Thanksgiving weekend.

The pace was well below predictions of highway safety experts who said at least 25 could be expected to die in Ohio during the 102-hour period that began at 6 p.m. Wednesday and ends at midnight Sunday.

Last year 27 died over the holiday, the lowest number in a decade.

The dead:

THURSDAY
FINDLAY—Etta Thomas, 82, of Vanlue, in a two-car collision on U.S. 224 in Hancock County.

CRESTLINE—Jeffrey A. Kandel, 19, Richwood, in a two-car accident on U.S. 30 in Crestline.

CLEVELAND—Kenneth McClellan, age unknown, Cleveland, in a two-car crash on Detroit Avenue in Cleveland.

CLEVELAND—Edward Sarley, 25, Cleveland in a one-car accident in Cleveland.

FAIRFIELD—Dennis Leifheit, 17, on Fairfield, in a one-car crash in Fairfield.

Prison Official Faces Discipline

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— State Corrections Chief Bennett Cooper says departmental disciplinary action could be taken against an associate superintendent of the Lucasville penitentiary because of his conviction for nonpayment of child support.

Cooper said the action against Rowland R. Lutz, 49, of Lucasville, could range from a reprimand to "dismissal."

Lutz was sentenced to 60 days in the Franklin County Workhouse Wednesday for failing to pay more than $1,600 in child support for his illegitimate infant son. The sentence was handed down by Domestic Relations Judge Donald Breckenridge.

Lutz earns $17,514 a year as head of the penitentiary's treatment services.

Garbage Set For Shipment To Ohio

ROCKVILLE, Md. (AP)—Montgomery County, one of the nation's wealthiest, is planning to ship its garbage by rail to Ohio at a cost of $26,000 a day.

Officials of the county, located just north of Washington, D.C., declined to say where in Ohio the garbage would be dumped because of concern that citizens there might object.

About 1,300 tons of trash currently is burned daily at an incinerator here. By shipping it to Ohio, the county hopes to comply with Maryland air-quality standards.

The Ohio project was launched after Montgomery County officials attempted unsuccessfully to convince some West Virginia strip mine owners to use the trash to reclaim the mining sites. That plan was junked because towns in West Virginia objected.

The cost of hauling the garbage to Ohio was estimated at $16 a ton for transport and from $2 to $4 for handling. The trash would be carried in 40-cubic-yard containers.

County officials said the trash shipping agreement that now is being negotiated would allow all of Montgomery County's trash to be shipped to Ohio for two years. After that, about one quarter of the trash would be sent there.

The county plans to build a trash facility that would separate the waste into reusable products and material that cannot be recycled. The former would be sold and the latter would be shipped to Ohio.

Set Four Seasons Ruling Appeal

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio attorney general's office plans to appeal a Franklin County Common Pleas Court decision that two former state treasury officials were not liable for loans made to the Four Seasons Nursing Home.

Jack Madigan, spokesman for Atty. Gen. William J. Brown, said an appeal will be filed within the 45-day period allowed in the 10th District Court of Appeals.

The attorney general's office says that former state Treasurer John D. Herbert, his deputy, Robert Gardner, and their bonding companies are liable for a $4 million loan made to the Four Seasons Nursing Centers of America, and should be held legally responsible, Madigan said. Nearly $1.4 million of the loan has not been repaid.

Central District All-Stars Picked

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two men who guided their teams into the Ohio high school football playoffs are among the Ohio Central District Coaches of the Year.

Pete Corey, the area Class AAA Coach of the Year, produced an unbeaten regular season of 10 victories, leading the Golden Bears to their first playoff berth.

Upper Arlington defeated New Philadelphia 27-7 in the state semifinals, but took a 41-8 beating from Warren Harding in the championship game.

J.D. Graham, the Central District's top Class A mentor, directed Newark Catholic to a 9-1 regular season mark. The Green Wave also made the playoffs, bowing to state champion Middletown Fenwick 34-6 in the semifinals.

Graham shared the Class A honors with Mike Locke, the coach of 10-0 Canal Winchester, which won the Mid-State League crown.

Co-Coaches of the Year in Class AA were Columbus Watterson's Ron Shay and Bob Orth of Columbus Mifflin.

Shay produced an 8-1-1 season and Watterson's ninth Central Catholic League crown in 11 years. Orth led Mifflin to an 8-2-0 campaign and runnerup spot in the Columbus City League to Class AAA Walnut Ridge.

A-C Boosters Honor Teams

The Amanda-Clearcreek Athletic Boosters held their Fall Sports Banquet Nov. 16 with a carry-in supper.

The junior high, reserve, and varsity football teams, cheerleaders, girls volleyball team, cross-country team, and golf team were honored.

Larry Daniels was Harrier of the Year; Don Bethel was most valuable golfer; Brenda McNichols was the most valuable player on the volleyball team; and Judy McNichols was the most improved player.

In football awards, Toby Davis was the best lineman, Mark Marshall was the best back, Rusty Foster was the most improved, and Tom Hinton was the defensive player of the year.

Joe Noble won the Steve Miller Award.

Marvin Barnes

Back In Uniform

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Rookie center Marvin Barnes will be in uniform tonight when the Spirits of St. Louis meet the Utah Stars in Salt Lake City, but even he admits he may not deserve to play.

"Maurice (Lucas) is playing well and I don't feel I can just go in and take over," said Barnes Thursday.

The 6-foot-9 two-time All American from Providence, who jumped the Spirits last week in a contract dispute, agreed to rejoin the American Basketball Association team after talking with Harry Weltman, Spirits' president.

Steeler Sam

Davis Out

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Pittsburgh Steeler guard Sam Davis is not expected to play in Sunday's game here against the Houston Oilers, a team spokesman said.

Davis, who is offensive captain, sprained his left foot in Pittsburgh's 28-7 victory over New Orleans on Monday and has been unable to practice since.

College Basketball War Opens

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State tries to rebound from its worst season in Coach Fred Taylor's 16 years, opening the current basketball campaign against visiting Ball State Saturday night.

The Buckeyes struggled to only nine victories in 24 games a year ago and Taylor said, "Aside from the record, it wasn't any fun either."

With six lettermen and three regulars returning, Taylor sees a brighter season this winter.

"We're a heckuva lot quicker, our ball handling is better, and we're shooting more selectively," Taylor said.

"It's tough to believe this," added the Ohio State coach, "things have changed overnight. That's kind of exciting."

One holdover starter, 6-foot-7 forward Steve Wenner, likely will not play against Ball State, a new Mid-American Conference member.

The aggressive senior from Findlay, the Buckeyes' No. 1 rebounder last winter, sprained his wrist in practice this week and Taylor is leery to bring him back too soon.

In that case, 6-5 whirlwind junior Andy Stiegemeier will pair at forward with 6-7 Bill Andreas, another 1973-74 regular. Craig Taylor, 6-10, much stronger with 23 additional pounds, will be in the pivot.

Larry Bolden, sensational as a freshman starter last year, has overcome an early practice illness and will open with 6-2 Terry Shields at guard.

Although his team was eighth in the conference a season ago, Taylor carries his usual optimistic air.

"We always think we can win the Big Ten. We will have to play up a storm to do it though," said Taylor, whose teams have won the conference title seven times.

Jim Holstein, a former University of Cincinnati star, begins his third season at Ball State without ace scorer Larry Bullington, among the national leaders with more than 25 points a game in 1973-74.

"We can't replace Bullington. We're not even going to try to," Holstein said.

The Cardinals, 14-12 last season, have three starters returning, 6-7 Larry Heinbaugh, 6-1 Bob Faulkner and 6-2 Shafer Suggs. A brilliant football defensive back, Suggs currently is Ball State's sixth man.

Twelve of Ohio's basketball-playing colleges are active tonight before 1974-75 season begins in full force Saturday night.

Kent State is the only major school busy both nights. The Flashes play at home against Mount Union tonight and Steubenville Saturday night.

The earliest Mid-American Conference game in history, title favorite Bowling Green at Eastern Michigan, adds spice to the 28-game Ohio card Saturday night.

Other key contests send Toledo to Michigan, Ohio University to Wisconsin, Wright State to Cincinnati, Berea to Xavier, Old Dominion to Dayton and Wabash to Miami.

County Cagers Set For Weekend Action

It will be a big weekend of sports for Pickaway County basketball squads.

Westfall will have back-to-back games in the Mustang gymnasium, Teays Valley will begin Metro League play by hosting Marysville Friday night, and Logan Elm will host Circleville in a Saturday night game.

Coach Mike Eckle's Mustangs couldn't find the basket in their opening game loss to Huntington last Friday 49-33. Ironically, Westfall scored nearly as many points in the two quarter SVC preview game last week.

It will be another SVC foe for the Mustangs, who have not won a league game since Jan. 28, 1972, when they pounded Laurelville 82-72. The game was the 15th straight SVC loss for the Mustangs and 8th consecutive defeat.

Zane Trace, with a 72-44 win over Piketon under their belts, will provide the opposition Friday night.

In the win over Piketon, junior Jeff Wright and sophomore Brian Kerns scored 14 points each to pace the offense.

Then on Saturday, the Mustangs will host Millersport, a Mid-8 League team. Teays Valley, fresh from a 68-53 win over county rival Logan Elm a week ago, will host Marysville in a Friday night Metro League game.

The Vikes of Coach Bob Hoover got great offensive support from four players in the LE game. Terry Collins scored 17 points, Kevin Pettibone had 16, Lee Stiles had 15, and George Spohn had 10.

Logan Elm, in the meantime, will be preparing for the Circleville Tiger invasion Saturday night.

The Braves were stunned by the loss to the Vikes last Friday and will be trying to get more offensive support. In the game, Scott Pontius hit for 16 points and Jeff Reichelderfer scored 15.

Circleville will bring an impressive unit to Logan Elm, a team that has won its first two games by wide margins.

The Tigers are shooting 55 per cent from the floor after the two tilts, making 50 of 90 shots.

Harold Reed and Perry Hoskins lead the attack with 16-point-a-game averages. George Moore is averaging 15 points a game for Circleville and Brent Mancini and Mike McCoy are averaging about 10 points.

Moore and Reed have 12 rebounds each and Biff Bumgarner has claimed 10.

MAC All-Star Team Named

Denver, Dallas Record NFL Football Victories

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Conference champion Miami of Ohio placed nine players and Kent State seven on the 25-man coaches' Mid-American all-conference football team.

Two Miami players, senior middle guard Brad Cousino and senior offensive tackle Mike Biehle, were unanimous choices for the second straight season.

Other first team selections for the 9-0-1 Redskins were offensive guard Pat Kief, end Jay Fry, linebacker Chuck Varner and backs John McVay and Joe Spicer from the defense, placekicker Dave Draudt and punter Jeff Rowlands.

Tailback Larry Poole and defensive lineman Larry Faulk from Kent State made the squad for the second season in a row.

Other first team selections from Kent State were end Ken Dooner, guard Larry Wiggins and center Henry Waszczuk from the offense and defensive end Marvin Elliott and deep back Cedric Brown.

Gene Swick, Toledo's passing whiz, grabbed the first-team quarterback spot for the second time in a row.

Eleven of the 25 players—the coaches named three running backs to the 12-man offense—were unanimous selections.

Fulk and Swick joined Cousino and Biehle on every coaches' ballot.

So did offensive guard Pat Kief and defensive back John McVay of Miami, Toledo receivers Don Seymour and John Ross and Waszczuk, Donner and Brown of Kent State.

By JOHN NELSON
AP Sports Writer

The Pittsburgh Steelers, with the eager aid of the Miami Dolphins and reluctant assistance of the Houston Oilers, could start clearing up a confusing National Football League playoff situation Sunday.

They got no help, thank you, from Dallas on Thanksgiving Day.

Pittsburgh, 8-2-1, can clinch the American Conference Central Division with a victory over Houston, 5-6, if the Dolphins beat Cincinnati Monday night.

That set of circumstances wouldn't eliminate Cincinnati from a wild-card spot, but it would cancel any slim mathematical hope the Oilers have of gaining the playoffs.

In the second of two Turkey Day games, Dallas was 28 seconds away from mathematical elimination from the playoffs when Clint Longley, who had never run an NFL regular-season play before, threw 50 yards to Drew Pearson for a touchdown, beating Washington 24-23.

The Cowboys have been in the playoffs for the past eight years, and could gain an unprecedented ninth if the Redskins, 8-4, lose a few more and Dallas, 7-5, wins a few more.

Longley came into the game for the injured Roger Staubach.

In the earlier Thanksgiving game, the Denver Broncos, 6-5-1, beat Detroit, 6-6 and now eliminated from the playoffs, 31-27. Denver's Otis Armstrong ran for a touchdown and 144 yards in the game to surpass the 1,000-yard mark.

In Pittsburgh's last game, Terry Bradshaw and Franco Harris combined with the NFL's stingiest defense to lead the Steelers to a 28-7 victory over New Orleans. Bradshaw threw for two touchdowns, ran for another and tentatively has regained his starting position from Terry Hanratty. Harris, with 114 yards against the Saints, now has 762 for the season and is shooting for his second 1,000-yard plus season.

Dan Pastorini — if he can keep off his back after being sacked seven times last week by Dallas — could give the Steeler defense trouble.

In other Sunday games, Baltimore, 2-9, is at Buffalo, 8-3; Kansas City, 4-7, meets the Cardinals, 9-2, at St. Louis; New England, 7-4, plays in Oakland, 9-2; Los Angeles, 8-3, is at Atlanta, 2-9; New Orleans, 4-7, faces Minnesota, 7-4; Green Bay, 6-5, is at Philadelphia, 4-7; the New York Jets, 4-7, host San Diego, 3-8; the New York Giants, 2-9, travel to Chicago, 3-8, and San Francisco, 4-7, is at Cleveland, 3-8.

The Dolphins, confounded this year by occasional lapses in their defensive secondary, will have to shore up against Cincinnati if they hope to stop the precision passing of Ken Anderson.

The Bills are tied with the Dolphins for first in the AFC East, and would put the pressure on Miami with a victory Sunday. Buffalo, led by O.J. Simpson's 937 yards, is a two-touchdown favorite.

Bert Jones, sidelined since Nov. 3 with a shoulder injury, may get the nod at quarterback for the Colts.

With the Redskins' loss, the Cards can clinch the NFC East title by beating Kansas City. Jim Hart, whose 17 TD passes lead the NFC, could lead the Cards to their winningest season since 1960, while the Chiefs, who lost to Cincinnati last week, are assured of their first losing season since 1963.

Oakland had a nine-game winning streak broken last week by Denver and the Raiders need to regain momentum after clinching early in the AFC West. They will throw Ken Stabler against New England's Jim Plunket, who broke the interception jinx last week when he threw for 194 yards without a miscue in a 27-17 victory over Baltimore.

The Rams have clinched in the NFC West for the second consecutive year and are coming off an exciting 20-17 victory over Minnesota, while Atlanta's offense has foundered.

Minnesota, a game ahead of Green Bay in the NFC Central Division, has lost its last two but could clinch if the Packers lose. Chuck Foreman has an NFL-leading 15 touchdowns this season, one away from the club record. The Saints' Archie Manning completed only two of 10 attempts for nine yards and three interceptions against Pittsburgh last week, and may yield to Bobby Scott for the Rams game.

The Packers have won their last three with a total of 73 points while giving up just 10, including a 34-0 shutout of the Chargers. Green Bay and Philadelphia both depend on former Ram quarterbacks — the Packers on John Hadl, the Eagles on Roman Gabriel.

Both New York teams have streaks going: the Jets have won three and the Giants have lost three.

The Jets go against a Charger team weak in offense, and Rich Caster will be a primary receiver for Namath, who found the tight end for two TDs last week.

Craig Morton has buoyed the offense of the Giants, who have been outscored by only nine total points in their past three games. Chicago finally got its first TD in 22 periods in a 34-17 loss to Detroit last week.

San Francisco quarterback Tom Owens is getting in the scoring habit, last week throwing to Gene Washington for two TDs in 27-0 victory over Atlanta, the 49ers second consecutive shutout. Cleveland quarterback Mike Phipps probably will start for Brian Sipe, who injured his hip last week in a 15-10 loss to Buffalo, the Browns' second straight.

Three newcomers to Michigan State's football team come from Norfolk, Va. They are Tom Graves, Leon Williams and Larry Bethae.

POP—Detroit Red Wings goalie Jim Ruthertford (1) just stares at puck bouncing off his chest. Shot came from John Bueyk (9) of Boston Bruins at Detroit, Mich.

Wittenberg Prof Raps Ford Policy

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)— It's foolhardy to try to combat runaway inflation and stagnating recession jointly, a Wittenberg University economics professor says, because the traditional remedies for one can only inflame the other.

The way out, according to Robert P. Schultz, is to concentrate on inflation, with everyone, from the federal government on down, accepting "a smaller slice of the pie."

Slice the peak off the price spiral, Schultz says, and the recession will take care of itself.

"Inflation is responsible for the downturn we are in," Schultz said.

"Sooner or later we have to get back

Two Farmers Will Receive Corn Awards

Special recognition for their ability as corn growers will be given to two Pickaway County farmers by The Producers of Funk's G-Hybrids.

Their documented 1974 yields were recorded in the Funk's-G Project: 200 national high-yield corn growing contest. Announcement of the yields was made by Lawrence Wright of Circleville.

The award winning corn growers, their yields and hybrids, are Glen Kerns, Circleville, 127.1 bu.-acre with G-H562; and Steve Kerns, Circleville, 126.3 bu.-acre with G-4646.

Project: 200 was designed to challenge growers to increase corn yields for greater productivity and profit. Yield results and the agronomic practices used to achieve them are then shared with corn growers everywhere. More than 15,000 U.S. and Canadian growers have entered Project: 200 during the past three years, making it America's most meaningful high-yield corn growing contest.

To qualify for Project: 200, participants harvest as shelled corn a minimum of two acres from not less than four rows running the full length of the field. Information contained in the entries is verified by a reputable, disinterested witness.

A computerized summary of Project: 200 agronomic information is made available to corn growers each year by Funk Seeds International, Inc. With this information, corn growers can compare their corn growing methods to those used by other top producers.

Ex-Siamese Twins Out Of Hospital

PHILADELPHIA — Altgracia and Clara Rodriguez, Siamese twins until they were separated in a rare operation two months ago, have been discharged from Children's Hospital.

The girls left the hospital on Thanksgiving Day, bundled in red wool jackets.

"May God bless this country and its people," said Mrs. Salvador Rodriguez, their mother. The twins had been born Aug. 12, 1973 in the Dominican Republic.

Mrs. Rodriguez was told the girls would die but Mrs. Joseph Zimnoch of Harrington, Pa., got her church to raise funds to bring them here for surgery.

A 23-member medical team performed the 6½ hour operation in September.

Meat Labeling Program Pondered

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government label watchers say consumers may be confused by "Danish Brand Ham" since they might believe the meat was imported from Denmark, but they think everybody knows "Moon Sausage" really does not come from outer space.

The Agriculture Department, therefore, wants to clarify what it calls "geographic labeling" of meat and poultry products. So under a proposed change in regulations now under study any product called "Danish Brand Ham" would be mislabeled unless it came from Denmark.

"Fanciful names, such as 'Moon Sausage,' would be permitted since the place of origin would not normally be confusing to the consumer," the department says.

A spokesman for the department's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service, which is considering the tighter label requirements, said there was no record of "Moon Sausage" and that the term was dreamed up as an illustration.

"You could say the same about

FDA Extends Labeling Compliance Six Months

The Food and Drug Administration has granted the food industry six additional months to comply with new food labeling regulations.

The extension applies to a comprehensive regulatory program involving 42 related labeling initiatives developed by FDA to provide the consumer with more and better nutritional information about food products. The regulations which were to become effective as of Dec. 31, 1974 will now become effective on June 30, 1975.

In announcing the extension, Dr. Alexander M. Schmidt, Commissioner of Food and Drugs, said there were two considerations: the President's directive to weigh the impact of new legislative proposals and regulations on inflation, and the plight of a small percentage of food companies faced with packaging, processing, and inventory problems because of current adverse economic factors.

"Short of compromises with safety," Dr. Schmidt said, "FDA will interpret the regulations as reasonably as possible to meet various temporary economic adversities, especially where those adversities are threatening shortages of essential products such as food."

Dr. Schmidt pointed out that an estimated 95 per cent of food labels will be in conformance before the end of the year. However, a significant

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sheep producers have voted by a wide margin to continue financial support for a national wool promotion campaign through 1977, says the Agriculture Department.

A preliminary count of ballots cast in a mail referendum Nov. 4-15 shows 85.5 per cent of those voting favored continuing the promotion program. In all, USDA officials said, 40,181 producers voted in favor of the plan and 6,829 were against.

The promotion work is handled by the American Sheep Producers Council, Inc., under a cooperative agreement with the department. The program has been in operation since growers first approved it in 1954.

Financial support for the council's work comes from deductions USDA makes from federal payments due producers under terms of the National Wool Act. The deductions are at rates of up to 1.5 cents per pound for shorn wool and 7.5 cents per pound for unshorn lambs sold for slaughter.

In the fiscal year ended last June 30, the department said, the council spent about $2.2 million on wool and lamb promotion. This year's budget was set at $1.6 million.

The largest vessel in the world capable of carrying dry cargo is the Japanese Usa Maru of 264,523 dead-weight tons.

Elaborate Yule Display Gives Police Problems

BATH, Ohio (AP) — Much to the chagrin of local authorities, Dr. Dean Jones plans to resume his elaborate Christmas light display this year, saying he's doing it "strictly for the children."

The Akron dentist says he will erect the $20,000 display despite official protests that the city cannot afford to police the staggering traffic jam it creates.

Jones, who canceled last year's display because of the energy crisis, said he would shut down the display this season only if the coal miners' strike directly threatened Ohio Edison's ability to serve its customers.

"Halloween has been cut out, and unless someone tries to hold the line, five years from now everything else for children will be cut out, too," he said.

Jones has decided to light the display only four hours a day for 19 days instead of seven hours a day for 42 days, but officials of the Akron suburb say that isn't good enough.

"Even if you have 50 men down there and the road is still blocked, how would we ever get a fire truck or emergency vehicle in there?" asked Police Chief Robert Ferguson.

Police say some 25,000 cars creep by the Jones home near Summit Mall to view the display.

A newspaper story about the 48-year-old dentist's struggle with the

Aging Panel Distributed $9 Million

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Some $9 million in federal and state funds was distributed by the Ohio Commission on Aging during its first year of operation, according to Executive Director David Crowley.

Crowley said the commission also has directed the development of 13 area agencies for the elderly and 18 senior nutrition projects since its creation on Nov. 23, 1973.

The area agencies plan, coordinate and fund local senior citizen programs within their multi-county jurisdictions. Under the nutrition program, more than 8,500 hot noon meals are served daily to people over 60 years of age.

Other projects have been aimed at publicizing the problems of the elderly, improving the federal Supplemental Security Income program and getting the elderly involved in commission programs.

"Perhaps the most important development we have seen in the last year is the increased role older people are playing in legislative activities," Crowley said.

"This includes the formation of the Ohio Coalition of Senior Citizen Groups and other action taken by individuals and organizations to make more voices heard at the federal, state and local government levels."

Minister Raps Canadian Plans

OTTAWA (AP) — Sen. Grattan O'Leary says any attempts to diminish Canada's trade dependence on the United States would amount to "treason to Canada."

The Progressive-Conservative from Ontario added that suggestions that Canada join the Common Market are "dangerous heresy."

The 86-year-old senator said Thursday, "Just as in the old days when we were twisting the tail of the British lion, we now are plucking the feathers of the American eagle."

New Miss World
Resigns Title

LONDON (AP) — Helen Morgan, the 22-year-old unwed mother who won the Miss World title last week, has resigned the title, a spokesman for the contest's organizers said today.

She became the second Miss World in a row to vacate her title prematurely. Last year, Marjorie Wallace of Indianapolis was stripped of the honor by the organizers after 14 weeks because of publicity over her relationships with pop singer Tom Jones and former soccer star George Best.

Eric Morley of the Mecca organization said Miss Morgan "mentioned there is a possibility of a divorce case and she thinks in the circumstances she should resign."

Mrs. Dean Good gave the devotions and read a Thanksgiving story from, "Country Living" followed by scripture.

There was a silent auction and the next meeting will have a Christmas theme and hostesses are Mrs. Ed Flugge and Miss Joann Lemley.

The new officers taking over in January are Mrs. Good, chairman; Mrs. Raymond Davis and Mrs. Carroll Minor, co-vice chairmen; Mrs. David Petty treasurer and Mrs. McCarty, secretary.

Mrs. Flora Sims, her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sims and their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Van der Wissel and son Ryan attended funeral services for Mrs. Sims' brother-in-law, Lee Step in Portsmouth, Saturday. Shortly after returning home, Mrs. Sims got word that her only brother, A. L. Harris of Chatteroy, W. Va. had passed away in Salina, Kan. The family will attend his funeral on Wednesday at Williamson's Funeral Home in West Virginia.

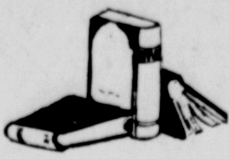

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brooks (Pamela Timmons) have named their 6-pound 6-ounce baby girl born Nov. 22 in the Ross County Medical Center, Theresa Shannon. Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Timmons of Kingston and Mr. and Mrs. Francis Brooks, Sharon Hill, Pa. Mrs. Olive Kelley of Kingston is a grandmother.

Mr. and Mrs. Barry Bennett arrived Wednesday evening from Wilmore, Ky. to spend the Holiday weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Beavers.

The Mt. Pleasant Garden Club met Monday night at the home of Mrs. Marvin Jones and Mrs. Grover Whitten conducted the business session. Mrs. Wayne Delong presented a collection of Christmas decorations for the home that she had made up and described them.

Mrs. Jones displayed two new articles being used for the first time, a straw wreath and a corn husk wreath with bow. Arrangements to be judged were "Christmas Arrangements with Candles" and Mrs. Whitten and Mrs. Cecil Bower placed first and second.

There will be a dinner meeting with husbands and guests, Dec. 11. Roll call was answered by giving a favorite Thanksgiving recipe.

On Books And Activities At The Library

The turkey bones are picked clean and the last company dish is put away so now it's time to think Christmas.

One of the best new "how to" books we've seen is "Holiday Decorations" from Better Homes and Gardens. It has over 300 projects to give you that holiday spirit. Another timely book from BHG is "Holiday Crafts." Both of these include ideas for children to work with.

In the busy days ahead, there's not much time for serious reading but how relaxing it is to wind down with a good novel or some light reading.

Jean Plaidy fans know her talent with historical fiction. "Madonna Of The Seven Hills" is the story of Lucrezia Borgia. If you like passion, intrigue and murder, the Borgias will provide your fill.

"The General" by Stephen Longstreet is a readable novel of one man's rise to the general ranks of the Army. It's a robust story but sure to hold your interest.

Imperial Russia as Napoleon advances is the setting for "The Night Of The Wolf" by Constance Fecher. Christina Dering is the heroine and her flight across war-torn Europe is the plot.

"A Book Of Ruth" by Syrell R. Leahy is a story for today. It's the story of a young Jewish mother and a former Catholic priest involved in a passionate but dangerous love affair.

Catherine Cookson is well known for her storytelling. "Our John Willie" may well be one of her best. It's the story of two orphaned brothers, a formidable maiden lady and how unselfish love changed their lives.

Gothic suspense from the pen of Isabelle Holland is found in her latest title. It's called "Trelawny."

Adventure and suspense go in varied directions with this week's offerings. If you enjoy psychological suspense, "Olivia" by Gwendoline Butler is a subtle mystery in contemporary London.

"Gideon's Fog" by J. J. Marric involves Gideon of Scotland Yard in one of his most bizarre cases.

Jessica Mann has woven a complicated plot of political intrigue into "The Sticking Place."

"Steps To Nowhere" by Constance Leonard is the chilling story of a young woman who retraces her steps into the past. The result is an eerie and terrible experience.

James Graham's novel "The Run to Morning" is a modern, up-beat adventure story which puts the hero into three dangerous missions simultaneously.

"The Centauri Device" by M. John Harrison and "Fire Time" by Paul Anderson are now Doubleday Science Fiction offerings.

Avalon light romances include: "Celebrity Nurse" by Ann Gilmer; "The Redbird Affair" by Lucile Stevens; "The Reluctant Cinderella" by Jennifer Ames; "Evil In Waiting" by Renate Chapman.

"The Sharpshooter" by John Reese; "Warrior Road" by Fred Grove; "Gun Justice" by William Hopson should give the western readers some new material.

One new non-fiction is worth a mention. "Gerald Ford" by J. F. Ter Horst is a portrait of Gerald Ford's past, a look at where he stands on major issues and his possible candidacy for the President in 1976.

Don't let cold, gloomy days and holiday pressure get you down. Visit your Pickaway Public Library regularly for a lift.

Tiger Band Ready For Concert Season

TIGER BANNER—DeeDee Poling, left, and Kristi Rahe are band members preparing for the concert season. After a successful marching season, the Marching Tigers will come indoors for a season of equally entertaining music.

By RILEY ROSE

The Circleville Marching Tigers, after a great marching season, are ready for concert season, according to Gary Dean, director. The Tiger Band performed in two contests and ten halftimes this year.

On behalf of the band, Dean said he would like to express a special thanks to the fans and the boosters for their support.

New Student Comes From Big City

RHONDA VINYARD

By CATHY DELONG

Junior Rhonda Vinyard commented, "Everybody is a lot more friendly," when she was asked what she liked about Circleville High School.

Rhonda resides at 500 Edgewood Drive with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Vinyard. She has one brother, Terry, age 5.

She moved from Independence, Mo. where she was active in the gymnastics team, and was a majorette at Truman High School.

She said that she liked her former school because, "You wore almost anything you wanted." However, she stated that she disliked it because in sports, the boys were always favored over the girls.

She is now active in SOS, and she teaches baton lessons at the YMCA.

"It's a lot smaller and you have to go to school longer," stated Rhonda, when asked to compare CHS to Truman High School.

Her impression of Circleville was, "The town is a lot smaller than what I'm used to, but the people are a lot closer together, and a lot friendlier than those in the big city."

Circleville School Menu

Dec. 2 — hamburger on bun, dill slices, green beans, creamed rice, peach, half, milk.
Dec. 3 — pizza burger, celery strips, mixed fruit-bananas, cookie, milk.
Dec. 4 — john marzetti, tossed salad, fruit jello, roll-butter, milk.
Dec. 5 — sausage sandwich, succotash, applesauce cake, orange juice, milk.
Dec. 6 — fish on bun, tartar sauce, buttered peas, vanilla pudding, brownie, milk.
Dec. 9 — wiener on bun, baked beans, applesauce, potato chips, milk.
Dec. 10 — porcupine meat balls with tomato sauce, mixed vegetables, apple half, roll-butter, milk.
Dec. 11 — hot bologna sandwich, parsley potatoes, carrot strips, fruit cocktail-bananas, milk.
Dec. 12 — chili-con-carne, cole slaw, sliced pineapple, cornbread-butter, milk.
Dec. 13 — macaroni-cheese, buttered spinach, peanut butter sandwich, pear half, milk.

European Tour On Schedule

By MARY HORST

Forty-two CHS students will be traveling abroad this spring.

French students and former French students are taking a trip to France from March 28 to April 5. In addition to traveling through France, the French classes will also visit Brussels, Belgium, and London, England.

The group will take a bus to New York and will fly to Paris from there. During their five day stay in Paris, the students will take a special trip to Chartres Cathedral and down the Loire River to see five chateaux. French teacher Mrs. Paula Woodward, the group's chaperone, commented, "The experience will broaden the horizons of everyone involved."

Twenty Latin students and former Latin students will be leaving for Italy a day earlier than the French tour will leave. They will fly to Philadelphia from Columbus and then on to Rome on March 27. They will also tour Florence, Naples, and Pompei.

"A special highlight of the trip will be spending Easter Sunday in Rome," commented Mrs. Winifred Breegle, Latin teacher, and the group's chaperone. The group will return to Circleville April 5.

Junior High Welcomes New Teacher

MISS CATHY WINE

By SHERI SMITH

Miss Cathy Wine, a new teacher to the Circleville system, teaches seventh and eighth grade home economics at Circleville Junior High.

Majoring in home economics, Miss Wine graduated from Otterbein College. While in college, she was also involved in College Senate, Kappa Phi Omega Sorority, and Pan-Hel Greek Governance Board.

Originally from Summit Station, Miss Wine now resides at 536 Nicholas Square. In her spare time, she said she enjoys sewing, quilting and decoupage.

"Youth must learn, but the learning process doesn't have to be dull and boring. They have a good deal going for them if they use it wisely," said Miss Wine.

She said she enjoys her job very much and thinks it challenging and rewarding. "No two days are ever the same," she commented.

Miss Wine would someday like to teach college level home economics. She said she returns to college each summer to further her education.

She also enjoys traveling and said she would like to return to Europe as soon as possible.

Before teaching in Circleville, she

Reserves Look For Good Year

By TAMMY DAVIS

The Circleville reserve basketball team is looking for a good season from all of their players.

"The reserves lost their first game to Bexley because of poor defense," said Coach Dennis Stewart.

Coach Stewart feels that Hillsboro, Miami Trace, Wilmington, and Circleville will be strong contenders for the SCOL crown.

Stewart stated the team needs to attempt more inside shots, be fouled more, and make more offensive rebounds.

He said, "I feel we will get stronger after each game. To win we must work together, learn our offense and play a better defensive game."

Members of the reserve team are Brian Fath, guard; Tom Taylor, guard; Brad Allison, guard or forward; Frank Merrill, guard or forward; Rusty Holbrook, forward; Mearle Logan, guard or forward; Brian Price, forward; Mark Rustin, forward; Eric Pontious, forward; Tom McGuire, center; and Chuck Wellman, forward.

Guidance Guidelines

By BECKY MOOREHEAD

The Parent-Teacher Conference Day will be held Tuesday.

The General Aptitude Test Battery will be given to all 9th grade students Dec. 2-5.

This battery of tests, referred to as the GATB, has been developed by the U.S. Employment Service for the use as an employment counseling tool. It is administered to all ninth grade students for the purpose of assisting them in making decisions concerning school subjects and in considering potential career fields. Results are also related to program of the Pickaway-Ross Vocational Center, and students may be able to identify programs which utilize their particular pattern of aptitudes.

Twelve tests provides 9 aptitude area scores: general learning ability, verbal aptitude, numerical aptitude, spatial aptitude, form perception, clerical perception, motor coordination, finger dexterity, and manual dexterity. Students are provided lists of vocation in which workers have aptitudes similar to theirs, as well as vocations in which higher or lower aptitude scores are found among workers.

The Guidance Department is undergoing an evaluation program called PRIDE (Program Review for Improvement Development and Expansion of Guidance and Vocational Education). It is sponsored by the Ohio Division of Guidance and Testing and the Division of Vocational Education. Surveys of student opinions and interest in vocational programs have been conducted among 9, 10, and 12th grade students and parents of 12th grade students.

A committee of students, parents, teachers, and lay citizens is also studying the guidance department staff, facilities, and program for the purpose of identifying strengths and recommending improvements.

Nature Reserve Planned

By CATHY ROUITT

Ecology is becoming vital to CHS with the planning of a new nature reserve.

The nature area is on the north side of the campus along the football field. The biology and agriculture classes are to set it up, take care of it, and use it for class work. It is also to be used by students to keep track of plants and animals in our area.

Circleville's Junior Women's League are sponsoring the project.

Flower bulbs, which will bloom in spring, have been planted, and there are various types of trees ordered that will be planted in spring.

There will be 150 evergreen trees planted along the north side of the football field, and, according to Bill Brooke, biology teacher, these will serve as a windbreak.

This reserve will also be a great help to elementary schools, Brook explained, because trees will be planted that are identified in the elementary science books to help the younger children identify them.

Government Class Studies Consumer Unit

By LIBBY GOELLER

During the past six weeks Miss Carol Parker's American government classes have been involved in a consumer economics unit.

"The purpose of this unit is to give students who will be leaving school the opportunity to get some experience in everyday financial situations, rather than learn things the hard way," Miss Parker said.

The classes have discussed banking, loans, credit, credit cards, real estate, and purchasing cars. People who are in these areas of business have also spoken to students.

Speakers have been Joe Tomlinson, Third National Bank; Dave Garret, Savings Bank; Jim Conrad, Second National Bank; Kenny Speakman, City Loan; Tom Bennett, E.R. Bennett Real Estate; Randy Weller, Jim Houseman Ford; and Jean Ankrom, Better Business Bureau.

This program, which is in its third year, was the idea of the Circleville Chamber of Commerce, who suggested it to Superintendent Fritz Jacobs. Larry Plum, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Education Committee, arranges for the speakers.

The consumer economics unit will be continued throughout the year. Subjects to be discussed include appliance purchase, insurance, and income tax.

BGSU Cagers Face Eastern Michigan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Bowling Green, the preseason title choice, launches the MidAmerican Conference basketball race at Eastern Michigan Saturday.

It's the earliest conference basketball game in history for the MAC, which has only five league contests during December. The Bowling Green-Eastern Michigan date is the lone November assignment.

Northern Illinois, a new member ineligible for the conference race, and Kent State get the jump on the rest of the 10-school league by playing tonight.

Northern Illinois visits Arizona and Kent State plays at home against Mount Union.

Other games Saturday have Ball State at Ohio State, Wabash at Miami of Ohio, Toledo at Michigan, Wisconsin-Green Bay at Western Michigan, Ohio University at Wisconsin and Steubenville at Kent State.

Central Michigan waits until Monday night to open its season at Michigan State.

Bowling Green and Toledo, archrivals only 25 miles apart, are the conference championship favorites. The coaches tabbed Bowling Green and newsmen predicted Toledo would emerge as champion, replacing Ohio.

Bowling Green returns four regulars from its second-place team. However, 6-foot playmaker Jeff Montgomery is idled with a knee injury. Mark Cartwright, the starting 6-11 1/2 center last season, has yielded his job to 6-7 1/2 Andre Richardson.

"We'll try to run a lot more this year. I think we'll be better defensively, too," said Pat Haley, the Bowling Green coach.

Eastern Michigan enters the MAC basketball race for the first time with six newcomers, four of them transfers.

The Hurons' only regular from last season, 6-6 Talmadge Bell, likely will be on the bench against the Falcons. The new faces are that good.

"We'll play more of a power game, open up things more and have better rebounding, predicted Al Fround, whose Eastern Michigan squad was 8-18 last winter.

Coaches All-America Team Named

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Notre Dame, Nebraska and Ohio State each placed two players on the American Football Coaches Association All-America team, announced Thursday.

David Humm of Nebraska was chosen as the quarterback. In the backfield with him are running backs Archie Griffin of Ohio State, Joe Washington of Oklahoma and Anthony Davis of Southern California.

Pete Demmerle of Notre Dame is the split end, Ben Cunningham of Clemson is at tight end and the flanker is Pat McNally of Harvard.

The interior linemen are tackles Kurt Schumacher of Ohio State and Marvin Crenshaw of Nebraska, guards Ken Huff of North Carolina and Gerry Dinardo of Notre Dame and center Sylvester Croom of Alabama.

On defense, Jimmy Webb of Mississippi State and Pat Donovan of Stanford are at end with Randy White of Maryland and Mike Hartenstein of Penn State at tackle and Rubin Carter of Miami, Fla. at middle guard.

The linebackers are Rod Shoate of Oklahoma, Ken Bernich of Auburn and Bub Bruening of Arizona State. Dave Brown of Michigan, Robert Giblin of Houston and Mike Williams of Louisiana State are the defensive backs.

Top-ranked Oklahoma, banned from a bowl appearance by the NCAA for recruiting violations, closes out its season Saturday at home against Oklahoma State, 6-4. The Sooners, 10-0, will be out to win impressively in order to secure their hold on the No. 1 ranking.

No. 5 Notre Dame, 9-1, visits No. 6 Southern California, 8-1-1, in a battle of bowl-bound clubs. The Irish are headed for the Orange Bowl against Alabama and the Trojans will appear in the Rose Bowl against Ohio State.

No. 15 Houston visits Tulsa and No. 16 Baylor entertains Rice in the only other games featuring ranked teams. A Texas A&M loss to Texas combined with a Baylor victory would make the Owls Southwest Conference champs and send them to the Cotton Bowl.

The remainder of Saturday's schedule is highlighted by several traditional games, including Army against Navy in Philadelphia, Miami, Fla. at Florida, Arizona State at Arizona, Georgia Tech at Georgia and Vanderbilt at Tennessee.

Cleveland Tops 76ers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cleveland's Fred Foster came off the bench cold for the flu-ridden Bobby Smith and promptly cooled of Philadelphia Thursday night.

"We went to the bench and Fred was ready," said Cavaliers' Coach Bill Fitch after his team's 110-103 National Basketball Association victory over the 76ers.

Philadelphia sprinted to a 27-18 lead in the first quarter before Fitch decided to shake things up. He benched Bobby Smith, who missed practice Wednesday with a dose of the flu and was ineffective as a starter, and inserted Foster.

Foster led the Cleveland comeback and gave the Cavs their first lead with a driving layup in the third quarter. He wound up with 23 points, second to Austin Carr's 32 for Cleveland. Portland beat Phoenix 88-85 in the only other NBA game played.

Kentucky bombed Virginia 108-95 in the lone American Basketball Association contest.

Year-Round Recreational Camping For Handicap To Be Eyed By OSCC

A long-range feasibility study into the need for providing year-round recreational camping opportunities for Ohio's handicapped children and adults will be recommended to the board of directors of the Ohio Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults at the Dec. 7 meeting at 10:30 a.m. in the Franklin County Crippled Children's Center, 565 Children's Drive, West.

Newly elected board president John H. Weaver, 1596 West Main St., Newark, said the society has for the past three decades encouraged its 70 affiliated local units throughout the state to participate in summer residential camping programs.

The major thrust of the $3,000 study, Weaver explained, "would be to examine our ideas about camping and to determined the direction of our future program."

Other matters to be considered by the board include approval of the society's 1975 operating budget, a report on the national conference held Nov. 12-15 in San Antonio, Tex., and installation of new board members elected at the recent annual meeting.

Elected to serve with Weaver were 1975 officers: Richard E. Plum, 610 Ridgewood Drive, Circleville, president-elect; Mrs. Wesley Goodell, Lorain, secretary; Robert R. Williams, Columbus, vice-president; Mrs. A. R. Herold, Columbus, assistant secretary; Maron Yennay, Sandusky, treasurer; and Samuel H. Rosenthal, Columbus, assistant treasurer.

Re-elected as chairman and vice-chairman respectively of the Ohio Society House of Delegates, the governing body, were: Lake N. Kissick, Findlay and Richard Sims, Columbus. Karl P. Reiser, executive director, will continue to serve as secretary.

Seven new members were elected to the 37-member Ohio Society board of directors: Ms. Dorothy Cogan, Lima; Harland Fargo, Newark; Paul Ferrara, Kent; George A. Kramer, Zanesville; Bruce McGinty, Wooster; Tom Oleksy, Dayton; and Loren Waaland, North Baltimore.

Re-elected for new three-year terms were five board members: Leslie A. Douglas, Martins Ferry; Mrs. Wesley Goodell, Lorain; Raymond E. Hanning, St. Marys; Theron A. Loveland Jr., Niles; and Anthony Vivo, Youngstown.

Carl P. Krantz, Cincinnati, was appointed as alternate delegate to the National Easter Seal House of Delegates for 1974-75. Dr. N. Maurice Newburger, Sylvania, was named

Dick Cavett Signs Pact With CBS

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Talk show host Dick Cavett has signed an exclusive contract with the CBS television network.

A spokesman said Tuesday that Cavett, currently under contract with ABC-TV, will appear on a one-hour entertainment special and as a guest on numerous prime-time programs.

CBS Vice President Fred Silverman said Cavett's contract will run from Jan. 1, 1975, through the 1975-76 television season with an option for CBS to use him in a prime time series of his own in the 1976-77 season. The amount of Cavett's salary was not disclosed.

$12,000 Fire Destroys Barn

Fire destroyed a barn, 2:58 p.m. Thursday at the residence of Karla Martin, Route 2, Dungan Road, west of Route 104.

According to the report taken by Sheriff's Deputy James Deal, Ms. Martin's two sons were playing with matches setting the barn on fire.

The Martin family rents the farm which is owned by Leo Dunlap, Route 1.

The barn, 100-feet by 60-feet, contained oats, hay and some farm machinery, which was also destroyed.

The Williamsport and Union Twp. fire departments responded to the scene, but were unable to save the half-brick half-wood facility.

Damage was set at $4000 to the contents and $8000 to the building.

Man Injured While Hunting

Twenty-year-old Gary A. McCollister, Ashville, received a buckshot wound while hunting, with friends, Charles Kelly and Dave Winn, behind a market in Ashville.

Charles Kelly shot a rabbit, with some of the buckshot hitting McCollister in the thigh.

McCollister was treated and released from Berger Hospital.

Five CB Radios Taken From Trucks

Pickaway County Sheriff's Authorities are investigating the theft of five citizen band radios taken between 8 p.m. Thursday and 6 a.m. today from five semi-truck cabs.

The trucks belong to the B and L Trucking Co., owned by James LeMaster, Ashville.

Deputy James Dixon is investigating the incident.

Thieves took tapes and speakers from a car belonging to Michael Mathes, Route 1, between 2:30 and 8 p.m. Thursday, while it was parked at the Heck's parking lot.

According to Deputy Lawrence Holt, the speakers were pulled from the rear window deck.

The items are valued at $187.

Mexico May Quit OAS Unless Changes Are Made

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Foreign Minister Emilio O. Rabasa says Mexico might quit the Organization of American States unless the OAS is drastically overhauled.

Rabasa briefed Mexican senators Thursday on the foreign policy of President Luis Echeverria's government. Afterward, a newsman asked if Mexico planned to leave the organization to protest its failure to lift diplomatic and trade sanctions against Cuba.

"Not now," he replied. "But if the OAS is not drastically overhauled, we may consider it."

The Foreign Ministry added legitimacy to the answer by releasing it in an official statement.

Rabasa told the senators the recent OAS meeting in Quito, Ecuador, failed to lift the sanctions against Cuban Premier Fidel Castro's government because "predominant hegemonies" within the organization preclude free expression. This seemed to be a slap at U.S. influence on smaller OAS members.

Rabasa said one way the OAS could be overhauled would be to do away with the two-thirds system, which he called absurd. He said that on the Cuba question the will of a minority "blocked the will of a majority."

Mexico was a prime backer of the proposal. It has ignored the OAS sanctions by refusing to break relations with Cuba.

On Tuesday, Mexico broke relations with Chile, one of three countries that voted against lifting sanctions. Rabasa said the Chilean "no" vote was a factor that led to the break.

Six Defendants Appear In Common Pleas Court

Six defendants appeared in Common Pleas Court Wednesday morning on criminal charges. Of those six persons, two received suspended sentences to penal institutions, one was released on shock probation and three entered pleas of guilty.

Two Columbus men, both appearing for sentencing after conviction of felonies, were given sentences to the Ohio Penitentiary. LaGrande Mason withdrew previously entered pleas of not guilty to breaking and entering and grand theft and pleaded guilty to the charges. Judge William Ammer sentenced him to two concurrent terms of six months to two years in the Ohio Penitentiary.

James Lester Gerber, originally indicted for four counts of breaking and entering, one of safecracking and one of grand theft, appeared on the four breaking and entering charges. The other two charges has been dismissed at an earlier time. Gerber was sentenced to 1-5 years on each of the four counts. The court then suspended the jail sentences and placed him on probation for three years.

A pre-sentence report was ordered to be prepared by the Adult Parole Authority on Helen Bloomfield, Ashville. Ms. Bloomfield entered a plea of guilty Wednesday to breaking and entering.

The court also ordered a pre-sentence report to be prepared on Daniel Robert Edwards, Pataskala, who was brought before the court by county prosecutor Richard L. Gerhardt on a bill of information. Edwards had entered a plea of guilty to grand theft at Buckeye Mart.

Thomas Ray Dreher, Groveport, changed his plea from not guilty to guilty on a charge of breaking and entering during the mid-week session of court. Judge Ammer ordered a pre-sentence report to be prepared.

A motion filed by Billy Ray Boyle for shock probation was granted. Further execution of Boyle's prison sentence was suspended and the court placed him on probation for three years.

This morning, a jury is being impaneled to hear a case charging Virgil Detty of Chillicothe with receiving and concealing stolen property. Detty is charged with concealing an air compressor which had allegedly been stolen from Buckeye Mart. He was indicted for the offense on Aug. 2.

Ford Plans Executive Clemency

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford arranged today to sign his first grants of executive clemency, and perhaps some unconditional pardons, of convicted military deserters and draft evaders.

The Presidential Clemency Board earlier this week recommended an undisclosed number of cases for action by Ford, a board spokeswoman said. Board chairman Charles E. Goodell had said last week that 62 cases were being examined.

All 62 men had been furloughed from federal prisons or military stockades while seeking clemency.

The White House signing ceremony early this afternoon was to be followed by a news briefing by Goodell, and individual summaries of the cases recommended to Ford were to be released, the spokeswoman said.

The board is empowered to recommend executive clemency, including commutation of sentence and either unconditional pardon or pardon conditioned on alternative civilian service.

Goodell disclosed last week, the halfway point of the clemency program, that only 742 of the more than 100,000 men convicted of military absence or draft violations had filed applications with his board.

He called those figures "greatly disappointing" but said he expected the response to grow after the eligible men understood the program and realized that "they have nothing to lose" by seeking clemency.

Goodell said the board had concentrated during its first weeks on getting its ground rules established.

The clemency program is open only to those persons who have been convicted of absentee or draft charges. Those still awaiting trial may sign up for alternative civilian service under auspices of the Justice or Defense Departments.

Ford proclaimed the clemency and alternative-service programs last Sept. 16 and set Jan. 31 as the deadline for submitting applications.

Catholics Demand Butz Be Dismissed

NEW YORK (AP) — Outraged Catholics are demanding the resignation of Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz because of a joke he used with a mock Italian accent to attack Pope Paul VI's stand on birth control.

Butz was quoted as having dismissed the Pope's criticism of rich nations who tell poor nations to control hunger through birth control with the remark: "He no play the game, he no maka the rules."

The Roman Catholic Archdiocese of New York sent a telegram to President Ford demanding that Butz "apologize immediately or resign." It denounced his remark as "a crude and pointed insult."

The Senate of Priests, representing 1,500 priests who serve nearly two million Catholics here didn't ask for an apology in its telegram to Ford, just Butz's "immediate resignation or removal."

The Archdiocese, which said Terrence Cardinal Cooke was fully aware of the contents of its telegram, told Ford:

"If Mr. Butz can speak this way and remains in your cabinet, Catholics, Italo-Americans and the starving people of the world will all know how poorly they are esteemed by your cabinet."

Rep. Mario Biaggi, D-N.Y., said Butz "has shown an offensive and bigoted mentality," and urged Ford to fire Butz for his "anti-Italian and anti-Catholic remark."

A White House spokesman said Ford would have no comment until he talked to Butz and found out exactly what had been said.

Butz made no immediate response to the storm of criticism, but an Agriculture Department spokesman said Butz was merely repeating a joke he had heard at the World Food Conference in Rome.

Performer Sets Lengthy 'Flight'

COPENHAGEN (AP) — A Danish performer who bills himself as "The Human Cannon" says he plans to make an 8,000-foot flight from the top of the Eiffel Tower to the roof of the Arch de Triomphe.

But Stephen Leoni, 36, refused to say how he will make the trip which he says will make Evel Knievel's Snake River Canyon jump look like child's play.

He did say he won't be shot out of a cannon when he makes the flight next summer.

"I want to show the world something it has never seen before and something it will never forget."

Researchers indicate that the peak of human efficiency is attained between 8 p.m. and 9 p.m. and the low comes at 4 a.m.
